TEST OF DEMOCRACY, SAYS RAHUL ON RIGHT TO RESPOND

PREETHA NAIR & RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

UNDER fire for his 'democracy in danger' remarks in London, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday said the real question is whether he will be allowed to respond to the allegations raised against him by four BJP MPs in Parliament.

"It's my democratic right to speak in Parliament. What you are seeing is a test of democracy. If Indian democracy is functioning, I would have been able to say my piece in Parliament," he said at a press meet here after returning from London.

"After four BJP leaders made an allegation against a member of Parliament, will that member get the same space in the House or is he going to be told to shut up?" Rahul wondered.

The BJP was quick in its pushback with party leader Ravi Shankar Prasad describing Rahul as a novice in foreign policy. "Rahul should brush up his information about India's foreign policy and strategic security before passing any comment on such serious subjects," Prasad said. The BJP, he added, will continue to campaign against Rahul till he tenders his apology. The Congress, however, flatly rejected the demand.

Though Rahul attended the afternoon session of the Lok Sabha for the first time since the controversy broke out, the House was adjourned within minutes after protests. Parliament has been in turmoil over Rahul's remarks in the UK ever since the second part of the Budget session began on Monday.

"I went to Parliament this morning with the idea of putting what I feel on the floor of the House... Within one minute of my coming to the House, they adjourned it," he said.

The Wayanad MP alleged that the government is running away from questions on the relationship between the PM and industrialist Gautam Adani, who has been accused of stock manipulation and fraud by Hindenburg Research. Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said all opposition parties barring a few are together and believe that what Rahul said is right.

'SPEAKER JUST SMILED'

Rahul met Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla with a request to allow him to speak in the House. "He only smiled, the Speaker was non-committal," Rahul said

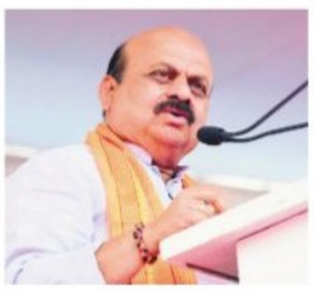
CM TO MAHA: WITHDRAW ORDER ON HEALTH SCHEME IN K'TAKA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday urged Maharashtra Government to immediately withdraw its order to implement Mahatma Jyotiba Phule Jan Arogya Yojana (MJPJAY), a health scheme, in 865 villages of Karnataka on the border.

Bommai told reporters here that he would take up the issue with Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

The chief minister condemned the Maharashtra cabinet's decision to provide the health insurance scheme for people of 865 villages in Karnataka and termed it an unpardonable mistake. During the recent meeting on border dispute with Shah, both states were asked to wait for the final verdict of the Supreme Court and not to take any provocative actions. But, the Maharashtra government has violated the directive, he said.



Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at a conference of beneficiaries of various welfare schemes in Mangaluru on Thursday

The CM said there are many villages in Maharashtra which want to be part of Karnataka and they have even passed a resolution in their panchayats. "We could have also made such announcements. Several taluks and gram panchayats of Maharashtra have adopted unanimous resolutions seeking their merger with Karnataka as they were not getting justice in Maharashtra. Maharashtra should have behave responsibly," he said.

The Maharashtra government on Monday decided to release Rs 54 crore for implementation of MJPJAY in 865 villages and towns in Karnataka.

Congress leaders in Karnataka on Wednesday criticised Bommai as well as the Maharashtra government. State Congress president D K Shivakumar and Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah demanded that Bommai resign as CM. They also hit out at BJP MPs from Karnataka and the union government for failing to protect the state's interests.

'Twitter must give details of originators of tweets'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE union government on Thursday told the high court said that Twitter is bound to provide details of originators of tweets as per rules and it will naturally issue a takedown notice or block the account if any tweet affects the integrity and sovereignty of India or public order.

Presenting its arguments before Justice Krishna S Dixit, who was hearing the petition filed by Twitter questioning the legality of a series of 'blocking orders' issued by the union government under the Information Technology (Procedures and Safeguards for Blocking of Access to Information by Public) Rules, either to block Twitter accounts or to block the identified contents of specific accounts.

Contending that Twitter is not entitled to any relief in the case through which it has challenged the legality of a series of orders passed by the union government to block the accounts, Additional Solicitor General of India (South) R Sankaranarayanan contended that even the Supreme Court felt that it is required to find out the originators in given cases to protect the sovereignty and integrity of the country. However, Twitter is not revealing details of originators in such cases though they incite violence, saying it has to maintain confidentiality, he argued.

Stating that an intermediary, including social media, shall observe the due diligence as per Rule 3 of IT Rules 2021, he contended that Twitter is not entitled to protection under Article 19 as it is a foreign corporate and foreign entity.

Referring to Rule 4, he argued that the intermediary must provide details of the account holders when the government seeks. But, it has not responded to the notices.

The court adjourned the further hearing to April 10, 2023.

STUCK IN TRAFFIC?

Bike escorts to make way for ambulances

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

PATIENTS needing emergency medical care may not reach the hospital in time because of Namma Bengaluru's traffic. This often leads to casualties. To help such patients, Shree Ram Bishnoi (27), who works as a traffic warden in the North-East Zone of Bengaluru, has launched a novel initiative of escorting ambulances to hospitals. Bishnoi, who offers his bike-escort service alone, says he is planning to set up a non-governmental organisation (NGO) soon.

"I want to create a network of volunteers to monitor traffic. They will be available on call and reach the spot and help create ways for ambulances stuck in traffic. They will escort the ambulances to hospitals," he says.

Motorists often do not make way for ambulances. They ignore the siren and keep moving ahead, causing inconvenience to ambulance drivers. The escort service will ensure adequate space for ambulances by clearing the traffic, a few ambulance crew told TNIE.

Bishnoi says he has plans to have a tie-up with super speciality government and private hospitals' ambulance services to offer his bike-escort service to them. Bishnoi, who hails from Rajasthan, came to Bengaluru seven years ago.

A similar initiative was launched in Delhi a few years ago by a group of people. This inspired him to start it in Bengaluru. Many volunteers have evinced interest in joining his NGO, he says.

Irked by East India Co-like order, HC asks BDA to give site certs

Petitioners, who are slum dwellers, made to run from pillar to post, says court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court upbraided the bureaucratic approach of BDA and BBMP for issuing Transferable Development Rights to the petitioners, who are allottees of Hakku Patras, the land which they have given up four decades ago for the formation of KSRTC Employees Cooperative Society and the Slum Area Development Board.

A perusal of the impugned order, the court said, "gives an impression that it is texted with the mindset of a draftsman of the East India Company, and not by one whose heart is at the right place. A few reasons for denying relief to the petitioners are ridiculous," Justice Krishna S Dixit said, pulling up the authorities for making the petitioners, who are slum dwellers, shuttle from one place to the other.

He quashed the order dated March 17, 2022, issued by the BDA Commissioner negating the recommendation made by BBMP to issue TDR to the petitioners, and directed the BDA to grant TDR certificates within three months to the petitioners.

"Our Constitution having been founded on human values, the state and its authorities should adopt a humane approach to the problems of those in need of socio-economic aid," Justice Dixit observed.

The court also directed the BDA commissioner to pay each petitioner ₹1,000 per day which may be recovered from erring officials if delay is brooked in the issue of TDR certificates.

They gave up their land in Sy. No.40 at Marenahalli village in Bengaluru South decades ago based on the assurance of BBMP that some shelter will be provided to them in land Sy. No.17. They were given Hakku Patras and possession certificates in 1979-80.

They had paid an offset price at the rate of Rs 2 per square yard. All their efforts to secure a small site for their houses are in vain. After realising they would never get any site, they opted for the TDR facilities.

"This is the third round of litigation... The petitioners had a rough deal at the hands of both BDA and BBMP, whose conduct does not generate confidence in the mind of the court," the court observed.

Activist blames Lokayukta for notice 'error'

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

AN RTI activist, who along with many others, had gone to the Lokayukta office demanding justice over graveyard encroachment, alleged that the anti-corruption watchdog had served a notice for recording his statement a day after he was supposed to record his statement.

Activist S Bhaskaran is a petitioner in the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) graveyard encroachment case.

He claimed that the officials had sent him a notice on March 14 for appearing before them with documents and record his statement on alleged graveyard encroachment at JJ Nagar in Chamarajpet.

However, he said that the date for recording his statement was on March 13.

Bhaskaran told TNIE that on March 6, he along with dozens of other activists, had approached the Lokayukta over Hindu Kannadigas and Hindu Tamilian graveyard encroachment.

"We met Justice BS Patil, and the Lokayukta officials told us they will conduct a joint inspection. But before that, a notice will be served to appear before them with documents and record statement. However, the notice was sent a day after the date for the statement recording," alleged Bhaskaran.

He claimed the notice was generated on March 10 and his statement was to be recorded on on March 13, but as per the postal order, it shows the officials sent the notice on March 14.

A furious Bhaskaran alleged that the officials have done this deliberately.

"This is nothing but an attempt to to derail the probe," he said, and alleged that BBMP officials have turned a blind eye towards graveyard encroachment and even blamed sitting MLA BZ Zameer Ahmed Khan and his followers for allegedly destroying the graveyard. He demanded that Lokayukta probe into the matter, and BBMP officials be summoned to explain why the complaint was ignored.

PETER VIDAL

17th March: Venus and Pluto are sending intriguing messages, one which encourages peace and reconciliation, and another which tempts us into reckless promises. Of course, we can't expect such things to take place just because the planets occupy particular positions. We actually have to work to make them happen for the best, and that means turning our backs on mindless confrontation.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It does look pretty certain that partners will have the edge on you today. However, it is also a very good time for firm, practical measures and those of you who wish to lay down the law will do your best. Just bear in mind that friends may be expecting a slightly different approach.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is much to be said for pressing ahead with every routine chore necessary for your own survival. There is also a welcome absence of difficult planetary aspects, which means that you may clear the decks of all unwanted and unfinished business - as soon as you can.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
If you can shift various chores and duties until next week, there seems to be no good reason not to do so. About the only responsibilities which do seem hard to deal with concern children and younger relations. You might even do well out of being more light-hearted yourself!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Mercury now settles into a harmonious relationship with Venus, an almost perfect indication of passionate encounters and intimate, almost cosy, times with loved ones. Give the top priority to pleasure and remember that, if you enjoy yourself, so will others.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may expect unscheduled journeys and should anticipate that the reasons will be for business, or at least for some other serious reason, rather than for pleasure. Your general approach should be solid and sensible, so don't follow idle distractions.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It looks very much as if it will be how much things cost that now determines what you can and can't get away with. It would be wrong, though, to place a cash value on personal relationships which require rather more serious consideration, but then you always knew that.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Moon is now set to gallop through your chart at a fair old pace. Interestingly enough, you can now plan for romantic success, so a partner must come to terms with the fact that you are the boss! Cash questions should clear up very soon, so don't panic.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The most perceptive amongst you will already have realised that the inevitable must happen, while the wisest individuals know that when it does it must be welcomed. One eventual outcome should be vastly increased security at home, so take the necessary steps.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Venus makes an alignment that is quite extraordinary, though very fleeting, bringing with it amazing emotional contacts with the past. You're hoping for the best and that means someone really should return from your old life, hopefully bringing fond memories.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This should be a rather satisfactory moment for all professionally-minded people. The basic planetary disposition is favourable for most of the day, raising the possibility of friction only later this evening, but then only if you haven't set time aside to relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You're now entering a new phase during which the only promises or commitments you make should be ones you are prepared to keep. Many active and lively individuals are now bringing legal questions to completion, or at least to a more satisfactory stage.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
From now on you will no longer be able to rely on personal contacts at work to get you through difficulties. That could be no bad thing if you are forced to develop different talents, including ones you never knew you had. Go on - surprise others and astound yourself!

ED OFFICER TO FACE CHARGES FOR EXTORTION

Case involves harassment over instant loan offered by mobile apps linked to China

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru

THE Special Court for CBI cases ordered framing of charges against an Enforcement Directorate (ED) official for offences punishable under Section 384 IPC and Section 7 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988 (Amended), for allegedly extorting money in a case involving harassment over instant loan offered by mobile apps linked to China. The accused official is Lalith Bazad.

The principal special judge for CBI cases, K L Ashok, passed the order on the application filed by the accused for discharge from the case, in which the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) charge-sheeted him.

"The statement of the witnesses is backed by relevant Call Details Records (CDR) extract and CCTV footage. Thus, there is ample material that makes out a clear prima facie case against the accused. While a strong suspicion is sufficient to frame charges, in this case, there is a clear prima facie case that implicates the accused. The material on record reflects that the accused is a public servant who is a responsible ED official, and had extorted money from Mikhil Innani, director of Apollo Finvest," the court added.

According to the case registered on June 1, 2021, Lalith Bazad, who is on deputation from the Central Goods and Services Tax and Central Excise, while working as enforcement officer of ED, Bengaluru, demanded and accepted undue advantage of Rs 5 lakh from Innani, who was summoned to the ED office on February 2, 2021.

Investigation revealed that an ECIR was registered on January 13, 2021, to look into allegations of harassment and Chinese connection to mobile apps giving instant loans. The accused was assisting Manoj Mittal, deputy director, ED, who was the investigating officer. Bazad initially demanded Rs 50 lakh in cash from Innani, when he visited the ED office in Bengaluru to avoid involving Apollo Finvest in the inquiry, failing which he threatened that he would entangle Apollo Finvest with unnecessary legal action and spoil its business.

MONEY COLLECTED ON PUB PREMISES

The accused, who was present at a pub on the night of February 9, 2021, allegedly accepted Rs 5 lakh, which was arranged by Innani's cousin through some known persons in Bengaluru. The same was collected by one of the parking staff of the pub, and kept in the car of the accused as per instructions.

Body in drum case cracked: Victim's bro-in-law on the run

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE woman whose body was found inside a drum at Sir M Visvesvaraya Terminal in Baiyappanahalli on March 13 was strangulated by eight men at Kalasipalya over a family dispute, the investigation has revealed.

Following a clue from a sticker with the name Jamal and Kalasipalya pasted on the drum, the Government Railway Police (GRP) arrested three of the accused within two days of the incident. A massive hunt is on for the rest.

The victim is 27-year-old Tamanna, a native of Bihar. The killers had broken her legs to fit her into the small drum.

The arrested are Kamal, Tanveer and Shaqib, while Nawab, Jamal, Massar, Asaab and Sabool are on the run.

Briefing newspersons on Thursday, Superintendent of Police S K Soumyalatha, who headed the investigation, said the issue boiled down to a family dispute. "Three teams were formed to crack the murder with one stationed in civilian clothes at Kalasipalya. The team in mufti got to know that eight individuals were missing from the area since the murder. Meanwhile, one individual by the name of Mohammed Intiqab came to the area searching for his missing wife, Tamanna. This helped us identify her as the victim."

The three accused arrested for the murder of 27-year-old Tamanna (right)

Questioning him revealed the background. "Tamanna was married off to a disabled person, Afroz, in Bihar and she left him within two months. She took a liking to Intiqab, and eloped with him in July 2021 to Bengaluru. The duo were residing in Anekal with Intiqab employed as an AC mechanic," she said.

His brother Nawab was opposed to their marriage as he felt it was causing issues within the family. "He invited the couple to his residence at Kalasipalya on Sunday (March 12). Seven of his friends were already there in the house and they took Tamanna to wait at a woman acquaintance's house nearby," the SP said.

They then tried to convince Intiqab to leave Tamanna, but failed. "They assured him that she will be sent safely to Bihar and asked him to leave her. He left the house in a huff refusing to do so." The group then went to the acquaintance's house and killed Tamanna with a dupatta and another cloth. "No serial murderer is at work and the other two cases of murdered women are separate," the SP stressed.

BWSSB work damages gas pipeline; 2 women critical as fire breaks out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TWO women sustained burn injuries and two houses were damaged in a fire caused due to a leak in a gas pipeline, in 7th sector HSR Layout on Thursday morning.

The gas pipeline of the Gas Authority of India Ltd (GAIL) is said to have got damaged during sewage works carried out by the BWSSB.

It is said that when gas started leaking from the pipeline, the workers, instead of bringing it to the notice of the authorities, covered the damaged part with mud. But this couldn't stop the leak and gas spread to the kitchen of the house near the work site.

A woman who was cooking sustained around 25 per cent burns when there was a minor explosion. An adjacent house also caught fire, injuring another woman who was also cooking.

The two houses were damaged when fire broke out due to leak from a gas pipeline, which was damaged during BWSSB work in HSR Layout

"Both the injured women are undergoing treatment at Victoria Hospital and their condition is said to be critical. Their houses have also been damaged," said an officer.

The HSR Layout Police have taken up a case against the contractor carrying out the sewage work.

Meanwhile, BWSSB Chief Engineer Venkatesh told TNIE, "No one knows how a gas pipeline was constructed below the lid of the manhole. It should never have been done. When our contractor was attending to a complaint of a sewage block here, it got broken. It is fully dark and no one can see this small pipe with a diameter of half an inch here. The gas flowed to the kitchen of a house where cooking was on. Hence it caught fire. "

NIA court convicts one more in JMB dacoity case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) Special Court, Bengaluru, on Wednesday convicted another terrorist — Arif Hussain — in the Jamaat-ul-Mujahideen-Bangladesh (JMB) dacoity case.

"Hussain was found guilty under Sections 120-B, 395, 452, 468, 471 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) for criminal conspiracy, dacoity, house trespass, forgery for purpose of cheating and fraudulently or dishonestly using as genuine any document; Sections 17, 18, 20, and 23 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967 and Section 25(1A) of Arms Act, 1959 in the case. Hussain has been sentenced to undergo seven years rigorous imprisonment with a fine," the NIA stated in an official release on Thursday.

Hussain, an "expert at fabrication of improvised explosive devices (IEDs)", hails from Panpara in Barpeta district of Assam. "He was operating from various hideouts in and around Bengaluru, along with 13 other members of JMB. They were involved in committing dacoities across the city for raising funds for the JMB cause," the central counter-terrorist agency added.

The NIA further stated that "Hussain had imparted training to his co-accused terrorist operatives in the preparation of IEDs. He had sold the looted gold in Assam and the money generated was then used for furthering the activities of JMB in India," the agency added.

The Special Court had earlier convicted Najir Sheikh, Habibur Rahaman and Mosaraf Hossain who pleaded guilty and were awarded seven years rigorous imprisonment with fine in November 2022. Khador Kazi, Mustafizur Rahman, Adil Sheikh and Abdul Karim also pleaded guilty later and were awarded seven years rigorous imprisonment with fine in January 2023.

Cong guarantee card just a visiting card: CM

Says people of the state will dump it in dustbins & seeking votes on the basis of religion and caste is old-fashioned

CM Basavaraj Bommai at an event organised to distribute cheques to government scheme beneficiaries in Mangaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mangaluru

CHIEF minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday ridiculed Congress' guarantee cards to 'visiting cards' of marketing executives and said that people will dump it in dustbins.

"Implementing one scheme of giving Rs 2,000 to every woman head of households each month alone will require Rs 24,000 crore. This will leave no money for other schemes," the CM said while addressing a convention of beneficiaries of various schemes and programmes of Central and State governments in Mangaluru.

Calling it meaningless, Bommai said that while power consumption of an average household is 70 units, Congress has promised 200 units of free power. He also ridiculed the rice guarantee scheme of the Congress stating that the previous Congress government reduced the rice quota. Bommai used former PM Rajiv Gandhi's famous remark that only 15 paise of every Rupee meant for welfare of the downtrodden reaches them, to hit back at the Congress which has accused his government of 40% commission. "The previous UPA was an 85% government. Rajiv Gandhi himself has said that," he said referring to Rajiv's comment made 38 years ago.

Without naming Congress or Siddaramaiah, he said those who made big speeches about social justice only used people to get positions for themselves. He said his government was really concerned for Dalits and hence increased reservation. "They warned me not to touch the issue stating its like a beehive. But I went ahead," he said.

Bommai claimed that the schemes and programmes of the double-engine government have reached a large section of society. "We have not introduced these schemes for the sake of publicity or have put up huge hoardings like Congress. The benefit is reaching directly to the account of the beneficiaries even without their knowledge through DBT. There are no middlemen," he said.

Further, he said that seeking votes on the basis of religion and caste is old-fashioned. "For a democracy to survive, the governments have to be responsive to people's problems. People should also support the government which responds to their problems. Food, shelter, clothing, health and education is the common requirement of people and welfare of the society happens when it is provided," he said.

On a request by Fisheries Minister S Angara, the CM said that the bonus for rubber tappers in Sullia of Dakshina Kannada district will be increased from 8% to 20% through the Karnataka Forest Development Corporation.

Meanwhile, CM Bommai lost his cool when he saw BJP MLA Vedavyas Kamath indulging in cross-talk during the former's speech and reprimanded him. The clipping of the video has gone viral.

10L to attend D'gere BJP rally, PM to be present

Nearly 10 lakh people are expected to attend the party's mega rally to be addressed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Davanagere on March 25. BJP state general secretary and MLC N Ravi Kumar said the mega rally will mark the culmination of the ongoing Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra. Speaking to media persons, the MLC said 45 national leaders, including Union Minister Amit Shah, BJP national president JP Nadda and 335 state leaders have taken part in the campaign that covered 151 Assembly segments. As of now, they have held 110 roadshows and 41 public functions. It will cover all 224 constituencies by March 21. "The yatra has received a good response in Mandya, Kolar, and across the state. Around 60 lakh people have taken part in the yatra," he said. "The purpose of the yatra was to strengthen the party where it required to be strengthened and it has served the purpose well," he said.

DOUBLE-ENGINE GOVT DRIVING K'TAKA'S PROGRESS: CHOUHAN

HOSAPETE: Madhya Pradesh CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan heaped praises on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Karnataka counterpart Basavaraj Bommai for the double-engine thrust to development. During BJP's Vijay Sankalp Yatra in Hosapate on Thursday, Chouhan said wherever there are double-engine governments, there has been rapid development. "When it comes to Karnataka, it's progressing in all four directions," he said. "Modi and Bommai are giving free ration to people. BJP means Vikas (progress) and Congress means Vinash (destruction)," he said. He said there is a rift in KPCC between the camps of KPCC president DK Shivakumar and CLP leader Siddaramaiah. "Recently, former Congress chief Sonia Gandhi had an umbrella while AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge was denied one, which is a shame for Karnataka," he said. "In the upcoming Assembly elections, BJP will certainly come back to power, and in 2024, Modi will be re-elected as prime minister," he added. ENS

SMRITI TEARS INTO RAHUL

GADAG : Union Minister Smriti Irani took the Congress to task and said its leader Rahul Gandhi talks ill about India and her thriving democracy on foreign soil. She was addressing the BJP's Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra here on Thursday. "We, in BJP, consider India as our mother. Her soil is precious to us. I have come here urging you to make Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra a success. BJP always asks people to worship India... but the Congress asks foreigners to attack us. If Congress workers love India, they should oppose Rahul," she added. Hundreds of bike riders participated in the rally. ENS

Rahul to address youth convention in B'gavi on March 20

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

FOR the first time after the Bharat Jodo Yatra, former AICC president and Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi will be addressing a convention at the Congress Yuva Kranti rally in Belagavi on March 20, KPCC president DK Shivakumar said on Thursday.

Addressing a joint press conference with CLP leader Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar said Rahul chose to start the spree of party's mega conventions from Belagavi because Mahatma Gandhi had chaired a Congress plenary in the city in 1924. "At the Belagavi rally, Rahul would share with people the objectives and goals of the Bharat Jodo Yatra. It would also be an attempt by the Congress to instil confidence and strength in party workers and bolster the party in Karnataka," he added.

'K'taka, Maha govts should be suspended'

Hitting out at the Maharashtra government for attempting to implement a health scheme in 865 villages in Karnataka, Shivakumar appealed to the Union Government to suspend the government as it is in violation of Article 356.

"All the states are working under a federal structure. But, Maharashtra's move is damaging the democratic system. A conspiracy is being hatched to harm peace and integrity of the state and it is unfortunate. The Centre must suspend the Karnataka government for failing to take action against Maharashtra," Shivakumar added.

Siddaramaiah said 4-5 lakh people are expected to participate in the yuva rally to be held at 11am on March 20 in Belagavi.

AICC general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Randeep Surjewala said Rahul, AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge and others will take part in the rally. Rahul will focus on the future of youth in his speech at the rally in Belagavi and would also announce as to what the Congress is planning to create jobs for the youth, he said.

Senior BJP leader Mohan Limbikai joins Cong

Senior BJP leader Mohan Limbikai, who served as legal advisor to former CM BS Yediyurappa and also worked closely with the state government for several years, quit the BJP and joined the Congress in Belagavi in the presence of Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah and several other leaders.

"It was suffocating in BJP as there was no respect there for the suggestions of honest party workers. There is no respect for our sacrifices in BJP. There is a single-man decision in BJP. People are fed by this anti-people State Government." Mohan said.

BJP'S YATRA TURNS PROTEST PITCH IN MUDIGERE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chikkamagaluru

HIGH drama prevailed in Mudigere town as the BJP's Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra turned out to be a protest march as thousands of party workers and leaders blocked the road in protest against sitting MLA MP Kumaraswamy. The protesters demanded that the MLA not be given ticket as he has allegedly done nothing for the constituency. Angry protesters gathered on the road and shouted slogans against the MLA. They carried placards which read 'Kumaraswamy Hatao, BJP Bachao.'

Tension escalated when former CM BS Yediyurappa's car was gheraoed by the crowd. The protesters demanded that a new face from within the constituency be fielded.

There was more chaos when some supporters of the MLA also appeared on the scene demanding ticket for their leader. Local leaders tried to pacify both groups but to no avail.

Initially, the police too remained mute spectators as they were outnumbered by the two groups. However, they managed to frisk away the MLA from the spot.

Yediyurappa expressed his disappointment over the indiscipline of the party workers. He said distribution of ticket will be decided at the core committee meeting of the party.

Yediyurappa left the place in a huff and reached the helipad from where he was scheduled to fly to Chikkamagaluru to participate in the yatra.

All is well, Somanna not ignored: BSY

ENS @ Bengaluru

SPECULATION is rife over former CM B S Yediyurappa and Housing Minister V Somanna not being even on talking terms, and both leaders admitting to a rift. "It's been three months now since I met Somanna. Let him do his job and Vijayendra his own, as winning the elections is our one-point programme," Yediyurappa told reporters here on Thursday.

"Somanna was not ignored in the party, and the high command spoke to him. Everything will be alright," Yediyurappa said.

Somanna, who on Wednesday met Union Home Minister Amit Shah in the national capital, engaged himself in programmes in his constituency, Govindarajnagar in Bengaluru, on Thursday. He distributed title deeds of houses to beneficiaries.

The rift between the two veteran Lingayat leaders is said to be related to their sons. While both on are good terms with religious institutions, but is alleged that Yediyurappa tried to restrict Somanna to his assembly constituency, which led to disharmony. Yediyurappa's son and state BJP vice-president B Y Vijayendra, and Somanna's son Dr Arun have also been at loggerheads, with a video of Arun criticising Vijayendra going viral recently.

BSP in talks with SDPI, KRRS for alliance

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

THE Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), which has decided to contest in all 224 Assembly constituencies in the forthcoming polls, is in talks with Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) and Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha (KRRS) to jointly fight the three prominent parties in the state, BJP, Congress and JD(S). It is also seeking support of progressive organisations across the state.

In the 2018 assembly polls, BSP was in alliance with JD(S) and contested in 20 seats, but won only in Kollegal (SC) assembly constituency. The party has now decided not to have an alliance or understanding with any of the three prominent parties. At the last polls, JD(s) supremo HD Deve Gowda and his son, ex-chief minister HD Kumaraswamy, had approached BSP supremo Mayawati for alliance. It helped the then BSP's state chief N Mahesh win the party's lone seat in Karnataka. However, Mahesh who was also inducted into the Ministry in the JD(S)-Congress coalition government, resigned from the ministry to join the BJP, putting the BSP and its cadres in an awkward position. The BSP — which has a considerable cadre base in minority-dominated constituencies and Raitha sangha in old Mysuru and a few North central Karnataka regions — now plans to support SDPI in Narashimaraja in Mysuru, KRRS in Melkote, besides some other seats.

The BSP leaders feel the combination of Bahujans-Muslims and farmers can set the tone for new social equations in Karnataka, besides making an impact in the state politics.

The BSP has set its eyes on winning over the youth and educated voters in urban and rural areas and plans to highlight how various benefits like scholarships and fellowships were denied to SC/ST students by the BJP-ruled state governments.

BSP State President Krishna Murthy said talks are on with SDPI, KRRS and progressive organisations to provide an alternative to BJP, Congress and JD(S), in whom people have lost faith. Murthy said that they will make the presentation before Mayawati and will get her nod at the earliest to seal the pact.

Lingayats jockey for more seats in S K'taka

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WITH the Congress expected to announce its list of candidates soon, the party's Lingayat leaders — All India Veerashaiva Mahasabha president and MLA Shamanur Shivashankarappa and former PCC president Allum Veerabhadrappa — called on AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in New Delhi, urging him to consider giving more tickets to Lingayats.

A few weeks ago, Lingayat leaders had held a meeting in Bengaluru, to demand more tickets for the community, not only in North Karnataka but in the southern region too, and had apprised the leadership of this demand.

Lingayats make up over 16 per cent of the voters in Karnataka. They are jockeying for better representation in about 100 constituencies in South Karnataka, and are demanding at least 10 more seats in this region. They also demanded that one or two seats be given to Lingayats in Bengaluru city, which has 28 seats, besides giving tickets in all districts in the South -- Tiptur and Chikkanayakanahalli in Tumakuru, besides one or two seats in Kolar, Hassan, Chikkaballapur, Mandya, Ramanagara and Bangalore Rural. The community has said it should also be considered in Gundlupet in Chamarajanagar, Krishnaraja in Mysuru and Madikeri-Somwarpet in Kodagu.

MLA Shamanur Shivashankarappa and former PCC president Allum Veerabhadrappa call on AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in New Delhi | EXPRESS

With CLP leader Siddaramaiah, KPCC chief D K Shivakumar and the screening committee working on the final list, the Lingayat leadership urged Kharge to give proper representation. Kharge heard them out and told them he would first wait for the screening committee to prepare the list and then make any suggestions.

All India Veerashaiva Mahasabha secretary Renuka Prasanna said, "It is for the Congress to understand that if it needs to win, it needs Lingayat votes."

"We respect all sections of society and will give adequate representation to all. We have our yardsticks for choosing candidates, like winnability, and will apply them to all," Shivakumar said.

Analysing this development, political analyst BS Murthy said, "The Congress is seeing a crack in the Lingayat vote for the first time in about 20 years, and hopes to corner a good number of votes. The party can sense the community is not solidly behind the BJP and is hoping to cash in on the Lingayat disenchantment."

The Congress, which is expected to give about 44-45 seats to Lingayats, may not be able to match the over 60 seats the BJP is likely to offer the community.

SEC CEO writes to chief secy on transfer of officials

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Electoral Officer Manoj Kumar Meena expressed concern over the transfer of state government officials involved in election work, without informing the Election Commission. He has accordingly written to Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma on the matter.

In the letter, the CEO said Karnataka would have Assembly elections anytime soon. The Election Commission of India will announce the dates as well as the Model Code of Conduct for the polls. "At this juncture, many government officers and staffers, who were on election duty, have been transferred without taking permission of the Chief Electoral Officer," he stated. Further in his letter, he mentioned that they had issued a letter dated March 8 to take the CEO's permission for transfers. Despite this, many departments had carried out transfers, without his notice or permission. The CEO also appealed to the CS to direct all the heads of various departments and authorities to take permission from the CEO, before transferring officials and other employees.

Kavitha gets fresh ED summons

After no-show, investigation agency asks BRS MLC to appear before it on March 20

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

THE Directorate of Enforcement issued fresh summons to K Kavitha, BRS lawmaker and daughter of the Telangana chief minister K Chandrashekar Rao, to appear before it on Monday (March 20) for questioning in the Delhi excise policy scam, hours after she failed to turn up on Thursday, citing her petition pending before the Supreme Court on the matter.

Kavita, who had appeared in person on March 11, sent a letter and her legal team with documents to the ED office this time on her advocates' advice. When she moved the SC on Wednesday, the court listed it for March 24 without giving her any interim relief.

In the wake of her skipping the summons, a special PMLA (Prevention of Money Laundering Act) court extended the custodial remand of Arun Ramachandran Pillai, a key accused alleged to be closely associated with Kavitha in the scam. The ED was to confront her with Pillai among other accused and witnesses in custody. Besides, the ED custody of Delhi's ex-deputy CM Manish Sisodia ends on Friday.

In her letter, Kavitha said she was not physically confronted with any of the arrested accused when she appeared on March 11 despite the ED categorically assuring that was the purpose for her summoning.

Pillai was the frontman of the South Group cartel that allegedly included Kavitha. The cartel was the direct beneficiary of the Delhi scam.

Pillai is the 32.5% owner of an entity that benefitted from the excise scam. He claimed Kavitha was a major stakeholder in that entity.

RTC workers firm on strike from March 21

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHILE Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said that RTC workers will be given a 15 per cent wage and an official order will be out, the unions have maintained that they will continue with their indefinite strike on March 21, as announced earlier.

"There is no clarity in the statement by the chief minister. We do not know the complete details of the wage hike as we haven't received any official order. In our wage hike meetings, we had stressed that we cannot accept any wage hike offer that is below 20 per cent. The government has unilaterally decided to hike wages by 15 per cent, which is not fair. So as announced earlier, the indefinite strike will start on March 21," said a release from the Joint Action Committee (JAC) of KSRTC.

Fire likely from short circuit in lift, says Mayor

AT around 10.30 pm, officials started making announcements using a loudspeaker as they were unsure if anyone else was trapped inside. As there was no response, rescue teams checked the fifth floor. While the fire had been brought under control by this time, thick smoke made it difficult for rescue personnel to locate anyone.

Subsequently, GHMC's Enforcement Vigilance & Disaster Management (EVDM) director Prakash Reddy went in search of other trapped persons. Hyderabad Mayor Gadwal Vijayalaxmi said the building was at least 25-years-old. The primary focus is to rescue the trapped persons, if any, she said, adding that a short circuit in the elevator is suspected to have sparked the fire.

'Namma Nyaya Koota', a unique community court of Koragas

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

KORAGAS, one of the few primitive tribes of India, have a community court system, "Namma Nyaya Koota", through which various disputes are resolved free of cost.

Launched in 2008, their court has settled 117 disputes in Dakshina Kannada and Udupi districts so far. The system consists of a jury of five members, including a chief judge and "Pancharu" (equivalent to lawyers). The court meets once a month. The cases are first referred to the jury members, who investigate them.

Mathady Kayarpalke, who was the judge of a recent "Namma Nyaya Koota", said, "Many Koragas are economically backward and are unable to fight court cases as the legal proceedings are lengthy and time-consuming. We had two cases of marital disputes during a sitting last week at Puttur and one of them was resolved. At present, "Namma Nyaya Koota" is being held at community centres at the district level," he said.

A 'Namma Nyaya Koota' was held in Puttur last week, where a family dispute was resolved | EXPRESS

Sabitha Koraga, the first in the community to pursue a PhD degree, who works as an assistant sociology professor at Mangalore University, said there has been a good response to "Namma Nyaya Koota" and many disputes have been resolved quickly.

Ashok Shetty of Samagra Grameena Ashram, an NGO working for the welfare of indigenous tribal communities, including Koragas, said, "Namma Nyaya Koota" is based on the Gurikar system, which had a council headed by a 'Gurikar', who settled disputes. In the absence of a proper dispute-resolving mechanism, the community leaders were forced to come up with the idea of 'Namma Nyaya Koota' system in 2008 and formal proceedings began in 2010. Most of the cases referred to are of domestic violence and land disputes. Many cases, which could not be settled in courts, have been resolved here, he said.

He cited a case of a person working on the Kollur temple premises, who had married for the third time, though he had not divorced his second wife while his first wife passed away. It was the first marriage for the woman and after pregnancy, the man deserted her. The woman approached "Namma Nyaya Koota" and the man was ordered to pay Rs 1,000 to the court every month, which is transferred to her account.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

WON'T BE EASY FOR NEW US ENVOY TO WALK THE RIGHTS TALK

Twenty months after President Joe Biden first proposed former Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti as the next US envoy to India, the Senate gave him a 52-42 green light with some bipartisan support. His nomination was Biden's payback as Garcetti was a prominent member of his presidential campaign team. Biden persisted with him though his confirmation got unduly delayed as he faced allegations of ignoring incidents of sexual harassment against his former top aide, a charge he continues to deny. Garcetti's political sense is top-notch. He is credited with playing a crucial role in Biden's selecting of Indian-American Kamala Harris as his running mate. His easy access to Biden is another plus. However, he is seen as a lightweight without the requisite expertise for such a high-profile position. He needs to pick up those skills on the go.

Garcetti's appointment comes when New Delhi is buzzing with diplomatic activity because of its G20 presidency. India decided to buy cheap Russian crude despite Western sanctions following the Ukraine invasion, showing its determination to pursue an independent foreign policy. It is increasingly positioning itself as the democratic counterweight to an autocratic China in the region through multilateral alliances, which serves global interests to keep the Indo-Pacific region open and safe. The country's economy is already the fifth largest and hopes to jump two more places up the international table in just a few years. It also aspires to become a global factory by drawing big businesses wary of China. The likes of telecom major Apple and aviation biggie Boeing have already flown in. Garcetti's arrival may give the process a fillip. In another convergence, a bipartisan resolution in the US Senate seeks to sanctify the McMahon line that defines the Sino-Indian border in Arunachal Pradesh, a pushback on China's attempts to grab the Northeastern state.

Garcetti considers himself an activist-politician. During his confirmation hearing at the Senate's foreign relations committee in December 2021, he had said issues of human rights and discrimination in India would be at the core of his diplomatic engagement. Does that mean he would, for instance, take a public position on Article 370 in J&K months before it is due to go to the polls? Or on the hyperactivity of Central law enforcement agencies against the opposition? Given how prickly the ruling dispensation is to criticism, it is to be seen if Garcetti would want to walk the talk.

INDIA MUST TICK RIGHT BOXES TO WOW AT WTC

One of the most gifted bowling units in Indian cricket history will have one more chance to realise their dream of pocketing gold in Test cricket. It got a little nervy with Australia managing to win one and draw the final Test at Ahmedabad after going down 0–2 in the four-Test series. But thanks to some help from Kane Williamson and Co against Sri Lanka, India advanced to the final of the World Test Championship to be played in England in June. Of course, they have been here before, advancing to the final two years ago. But a combination of issues let them down as the Kiwis beat them on that occasion. With the talent pool at India's disposal, the minimum aim is to qualify for these finals but they have gone almost a decade without picking up an ICC Trophy.

If anything, the challenge at The Oval will be bigger as they face Australia, whose bowling line-up is more suited to English conditions than Indian ones. Considering most of Australia's Test specialists will either play in County cricket ahead of an Ashes series or be there already to acclimatise to the conditions, how India decides to tackle the twin challenges of a full Indian Premier League (IPL) as well as getting the players ready (the gap between the IPL finishing and the WTC final is about 10 days) will be interesting to see. Though the India think tank is mulling sending players early—as soon as their respective IPL matches get over—it needs to be seen how the Indian cricket board (BCCI) manages this. Practising with Duke balls in the middle of a white-ball premier event will be challenging too.

From an Indian perspective, they will most likely be without Jasprit Bumrah and Rishabh Pant, two of their biggest Test match winners. There are other questions the management needs to answer. Who will share the new ball with Mohammed Shami? Is Shubman Gill a lock? What's the latest with respect to Shreyas Iyer? One spinner or two spinners at The Oval, which has one of the flattest conditions in England. Shardul Thakur as a fast-bowling all-rounder? India has tended to get some of these answers wrong and that has meant a few reverses. With most of the team on the wrong side of 30 and desperate to pick something up to show their overall brilliance in Test cricket, the first step in reversing that trend is to pick the right choices.

QUICK TAKE

POLICING WITHOUT POLICY

Policing in some parts of India suffers from an extreme infrastructure deficit. In the cities, AI and facial recognition are new policing tools. But in the interiors, the Centre admits in Parliament, 628 police stations have no telephone connection, 63 are without a vehicle, 285 are without wireless set or mobile phone, and 2,701 have no CCTV cameras. Lack of infrastructure upgrades, like the long-delayed police reforms, terribly handicaps the force. Expenses budgeted for them annually, we now realise, are grossly inadequate. That's unlikely to steam the roll toward smart policing when even basics are a dream for some personnel.

The Congress stands on space that's shrinking so rapidly that it might join the ranks of the regional parties

OPPOSITION UNITY A MYTHICAL MAZE MAKING NO HEADWAY

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN

Columnist and political commentator

India's Opposition is a strange beast. The parties and the leaders making up this discrepant entity—that refuses to hang together even as a loose coalition—share similar problems with the ruling NDA government and use the same language when articulating the issues of harassment, victimisation, and institutional erosions resulting from the political executive's "overzealousness" to steer every wheel moving the establishment. Yet they cannot agree on the basic questions of confronting the challenges staring them in the face. The Opposition's inability to arrive at a consensus on step one of firming up the modalities of collaboration and making common cause against the BJP has a farcical element, characterised not by confusion, but ennui, disinterest and the most crucial, gamesmanship.

The last is ludicrous because most players operate on small provincial turfs despite their professed national ambitions, while the only national actor, the Congress, stands on space that's shrinking so rapidly that it might join the ranks of the regional parties. Clearly, the Opposition has punched above its weight.

On February 28, speaking at Cambridge University's Judge Business School, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi stated: "What is happening is that the institutional framework which is required for a democracy—Parliament, free press, the judiciary—just the idea of mobilisation, just the idea of moving around ... these are all getting constrained." On March 11, Kapil Sibal, a former Congressman and now an Independent Rajya Sabha MP, voiced the same concerns more sharply at a Delhi protest square where he announced the launch of a "people's movement for Insaaf (justice)" in the backdrop of the raids on Opposition party members, the collapse of elected governments and incidents of lynching. "The foundation of the Constitution is justice, economic, social and political," Sibal stressed and used an interesting analogy.

He likened the Constitution to a vehicle, steered by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, with Parliament as the first wheel, the Election Commission as the second wheel and the executive as the third one. The executive, in the BJP's possession, was trying hard to get the judiciary in its hold, alleged Sibal. "When the driver has possession of all the wheels, then the ED (Enforcement Directorate) will say you can go anywhere. What kind of democracy is this?" he asked, reflecting the despair gripping the Opposition.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Opposition was expected to go ballistic in the second leg of the budget session of Parliament and revive its attack on the Gautam Adani issue after the Hindenburg Report accused the Adani group of stock manipulation and accounting fraud scheme over decades, allegedly patronised and facilitated by "friendly" governments in Gujarat and at the Centre. Congress president and Rajya Sabha Opposition leader Mallikarjun Kharge convened a meeting on the first day of the sitting that was attended by 16 parties, including the Aam Aadmi Party and the Bharat Rashtra Samithi for obvious reasons. Manish Sisodia, the AAP's second-in-command, implicated in a liquor scam, is in jail while BRS leader K Kavitha is being interrogated by the ED for her alleged role in the same case.

Therefore, the AAP and the BRS, otherwise antagonistic towards the Congress, need all the support they can mobilise. Significantly, the Trinamool Congress Party was not part of the gathering despite its leaders wilting under the investigative agencies' heat at various points.

The word from the TMC was its chairperson, Mamata Banerjee, thought the Opposition unity endeavour was "premature" and she would have to sort out issues "bilaterally" with the Congress which was on a high after defeating Mamata's candidate in the recent Sagardighi Assembly bypoll. Similarly, the AAP was riled up when a former Congress MP, Sandeep Dikshit, and two former Delhi ministers wrote to the Delhi Lieutenant Governor V K Saxena to prosecute Sisodia for "sedition". Saxena promptly asked the chief secretary to take action for "sedition" and use the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act against Sisodia and the other accused for alleged "snooping and spying" by the now defunct feedback unit or FBU. The AAP accused the Congress and BJP of being in cahoots.

Different as the contexts are, the West Bengal and Delhi cases illustrate the underlying contradictions running through the Opposition. The discrepancies rise to the surface in crunch situations. For instance, the Congress sniffs a chance of reviving itself in Delhi because the AAP is in deep trouble, an unrealistic proposition considering that the Congress is bereft of local leaders and saddled with a moth-eaten organisation.

If the Congress believed that the Opposition's ED-CBI-created travails offered hope to the party, the first days of the budget session served a harsh reality check. When the Congress sought to resurrect the Adani issue, the BJP adeptly turned the tables by playing the "nationalist" card through the medium of Rahul Gandhi's recent UK visit and the speeches he made at various forums. The BJP's anti-Rahul offensive was carried to such lengths by a union minister in the Rajya Sabha that the Congress served a breach of privilege notice against him.

The Congress, with some Opposition parties in tow, had prepared to corner the government over its alleged "misuse" of the central investigative agencies and demand a probe by a joint parliamentary committee into l'affaire Adani. The treasury benches, taking the cue from Prime Minister Modi's castigation of Rahul a day before the session reconvened, took the campaign to another level. Modi alleged, "Some people are putting Indian democracy on trial and insulting the citizens of the country (on foreign soil)." The Congress tried hard to accuse Modi of "humiliating" India under the UPA regime but it wouldn't wash to the same extent, primarily because its sally had become a solo exercise which was fully entangled with defending Rahul—something the rest of the Opposition was palpably not interested in.

The BJP's time-tested line—that corruption was a synonym for political dynasties and inborn entitlement—covered the gamut of leaders who were in arms against the CBI and ED. The AAP was an exception but by now the BJP's talon was deep into Sisodia. Where does the Opposition unity project begin? With alliances in states or purely on issues? Either way there are no easy answers.

CHINA'S UKRAINE PEACE PLAN DOOMED TO FAIL

E D MATHEW

Former UN Spokesperson

While the United States and NATO countries have been heavily arming Ukraine against Russia and the war taking an escalatory life of its own, there have been no visible efforts to end the year-long conflict. The United Nations, the go-to arbiter in international conflicts, has failed to lay down even a preliminary framework for a peace process. Into that vacuum enters the Dragon. China, a self-declared contender for global leadership, has stepped forward with a 12-point peace plan to secure a ceasefire between Ukraine and Russia.

The plan calls for all parties to "stay rational and exercise restraint" and to abide by international humanitarian law strictly, avoid attacking civilians or civilian facilities, and protect women, children and other victims of the conflict. Some of the languages appear directed at the West. The paper warned against "expanding military blocs", an apparent reference to NATO, and urged all parties to "avoid fanning the flames and aggravating tensions", mirroring language that Beijing has repeatedly used to criticise US support for Ukraine.

The paper calls on the international community to "create conditions and platforms" for negotiations to resume, and promises to continue to "play a constructive role in this regard". Beijing does not offer specific steps but strongly opposes the "threat or use" of nuclear weapons. It is silent on the fate of the Ukrainian territory Russia has occupied.

Russian President Vladimir Putin welcomed the plan, and Ukraine President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said he would be ready to meet with Chinese President Xi Jinping to discuss the details. "Putin is applauding it, so how can it be any good?" was US President Joe Biden's brusque reaction.

It is unsurprising that the US and its allies are dismissive of the Chinese initiative. They argue that Beijing lacks international credibility to act as a mediator in the Russia-Ukraine conflict. China's seeming closeness to Russia also raises questions about its impartiality as a mediator. There are also ideological differences—an autocratic China being the antithesis of what the democratic and liberal West stands for.

Although Western support for Ukraine against Russia is often portrayed as a good versus evil enterprise, there are many layers to the plot, including, among others, that the war is a milch cow for the West's weapons industry and the invaluable intelligence from the battlefield Ukraine offers the West.

Into the second year, Europe's bloodiest conflict since World War II has become one of attrition, with Russia's military potential being gradually chipped away by Ukraine without the hands-on involvement of the US or NATO. The thinking in the West is that the longer the war goes on, with Ukraine putting up a spirited fight with the help of advanced weapons from the West, Russia's military gets degraded.

AP

> For the West, arch-rival China mediating a European war and succeeding is simply unthinkable, for it will lead to a tectonic shift in global leadership

A defeat for Moscow in Ukraine means Russia would no longer figure in the list of the world's superpowers. It would also take many years for Russia to rebuild its military. Accomplishing such a scenario—without committing any of its soldiers or sustaining any casualties—would be a strategic victory for the West.

"The way to avoid confrontation with Russia in the future is to help Ukraine push back the invader now. This is the lesson of history that should guide us, and it lends urgency to the actions that must be taken, before it is too late," wrote former US Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice and former US Secretary of Defence Robert Gates recently in The Washington Post.

Western support for Ukraine offers various advantages in return, especially in the vital area of intelligence. "While Ukraine's Western partners provide Ukraine with vital battlefield intelligence, Ukraine returns the favour by offering equally valuable intelligence on the quality and effectiveness of Russian troops, military equipment, and tactics. ... Thanks to Ukraine's unique experience and insights, Western military planners now have a far more credible picture of Moscow's true military capabilities," says Taras Kuzio, professor of political science at the National University of Kyiv.

The US, its European allies and Canada have now sent some $120 billion in weapons and other aid to Ukraine, with new, more advanced military supplies on the way. The war has helped drive international demand for weapons to new highs. Western weapons manufacturers have experienced the largest boost in arms trade since the war broke out. Countries beyond NATO, such as South Korea and Turkey, too, have benefited from the increased demand for weapons. In other words, the Ukraine conflict has led to a sudden proliferation of arms production globally, and the manufacturers are laughing all the way to the bank.

In the grand scheme of things, Ukraine has now become the West's own war without any American or NATO soldiers fighting and dying on Ukrainian soil. Importantly, this war will not decide just the fate of Europe alone, as a victory for Russia will undermine American credibility on the global stage and raise questions about the future of the Western alliance.

"Beijing is watching closely to see the price Russia pays or the reward it receives for its aggression. What is happening in Europe today can happen in Asia tomorrow," said NATO Secretary-General Jens Stoltenberg during the Munich Security Conference late last month, implying China's designs on Taiwan.

For the West, arch-rival China mediating a European war and succeeding is simply unthinkable, for it will lead to a tectonic shift in global leadership. It is no secret that Beijing is striving for an alternative to the current Washington-led world order. Besides, the longer the war goes on, the more degraded the Russian military gets, allowing the West to focus better on China, its principal enemy.

For all these reasons and more, the Chinese peace plan seems dead in the water for now, and the war in Ukraine is unlikely to end anytime soon.

Apropos of Sustainable talent management is a long game (Mar 16). The writer does a great job by giving a brief history of talent management. However, it would've been better had he touched on issues concerning talent management in India with suggestions and solutions. Talent is the greatest resource.

Apropos of Driving sense into motorists to reduce highway accidents (Mar 16). The editorial has rightly reiterated that lane driving is sane driving. Fighting corruption

It is truly shocking to see how investigative agencies are used in the country. Every government, be it Congress or BJP, seems to use these agencies to settle scores. It looks like fighting corruption is an empty slogan for parties to fool gullible voters.

Apropos of Congress shouldn't go on self-destruction mode (Mar 16). Senior leaders should pave the way for the youngsters and stand as advisors. 'How can we reinstate CM who didn't face floor test?'

Supreme Court reserves its order on Maharashtra political imbroglio

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

A five-judge Supreme Court bench on Thursday raised the question as to how the court can reinstate the Uddhav Thackeray government in Maharashtra when the chief minister had put in his papers even before facing the floor test, after the faction led by him pitched for setting aside the Governor's June 2022 order to the CM to take the floor test.

The apex court reserved its order after a nine-day hearing on the Maharashtra political imbroglio that saw the formation of a new Sena-BJP govt headed by Eknath Shinde.

Senior advocate AM Singhvi urged the bench to restore the status quo that had existed on June 27, 2022, before the governor directed former CM Uddhav Thackeray to face the floor test. Justice MR Shah then questioned Thackeray's decision not to face the trust vote. "How can the court reinstate the CM who did not even face the floor test?" CJI DY Chandrachud said that Thackeray was not ousted from power as a result of a trust vote which was wrongly summoned by the Governor but because he chose not to face it.

"No, but that would've been a logical thing to do provided that you had lost the trust on the floor," said the CJI.

"Look at the intellectual conundrum. It's not that you've been ousted from power as a result of the trust vote which was wrongly summoned by the government. You chose not to face it. You're frankly accepting the fact that you resigned because the trust vote was going to go against you," the CJI said.

Senior advocate AM Singhvi also submitted that the CM's subsequent resignation on June 29 would not have had any relevance on reversal of the governor's illegal action of asking Thackeray to face the floor test.

"It cannot be argued that the leader is appointed by the legislature party. The Governor has no role at all. It's an intra-party issue," Singhvi said. Also questioning the Governor's June 28 action, senior advocate Kapil Sibal said the governor did not have any authority to look at the intra-party dispute. He said, "Neither the Governor, nor this court can impinge upon the functions of a Speaker. The governor can only deal with the legislature party. He cannot pick up Eknath Shinde and say now you become the CM."

A political crisis had erupted in Maharashtra after an open revolt in the Shiv Sena, and on June 29, 2022, the apex court refused to stay the Maharashtra governor's direction to the 31-month-old MVA government to take a floor test in the assembly to prove its majority.

Sensing impending defeat, Uddhav Thackeray had resigned, paving the way for Eknath Shinde to become the chief minister.

LOK SABHA ADJOURNED AS GOVT, OPPN REMAIN AT LOGGERHEADS

The Lok Sabha was adjourned Thursday with proceedings lasting just three minutes through the day as the Opposition and treasury benches remained at loggerheads over Rahul Gandhi's democracy remarks and the demand for a joint parliamentary committee probe into the Adani issue. As the House reconvened at 2 PM, Rahul Gandhi was present in the House for the first time since the controversy around his remarks in the UK broke out. Kirit Solanki, who was in the chair, urged members to be seated and stop the sloganeering if they want a debate but the Opposition and treasury benches continued with their slogan-shouting and the House was adjourned for the day just a minute after reconvening. In the morning session, the House proceedings had lasted only for two minutes. Speaker Om Birla said:"I want to run the House, I want to give you enough opportunities and time to speak. You have to go to your seats. You come to the well and then go outside and tell that you don't get a chance to speak. This is not right."

Indigenous weapon systems worth ₹70K cr get govt nod

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

CONTINUING with the government's bid to equip the armed forces with indigenously designed, developed and manufactured arms and weapons, the Defence Acquisition Council on Thursday accorded Acceptance of Necessity to acquisition of weapons and equipment worth Rs 70,500 crore.

Acceptance of Necessity (AoN) means the government has accepted the need of the equipment and is the first step towards initiation of the procurement process.

The Defence Acquisition Council (DAC), chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, approved the acquisition to be done under 'Buy Indian-IDDM (Indigenously Designed, Developed and Manufactured)'.

Proposals of the Indian Navy constituted the major approvals, with more than Rs 56,000 crore going to it. The proposals largely include indigenous BrahMos missiles, Shakti Electronic Warfare (EW) systems and Utility Helicopters-Maritime.

"While this additional procurement of BrahMos missile system will enhance the maritime strike capabilities and anti-surface warfare operation, the addition of utility helicopters will multiply the operational readiness of the Indian Navy in the domain of search and rescue operations, casualty evacuation, humanitarian Assistance disaster relief (HADR). Etc," the Defence Ministry said in a statement.

The DAC, the highest decision-making body in the Ministry of Defence, granted AoN for medium speed marine diesel engine under Make-I category as "for the first time, India is venturing into the development and manufacturing of such engines indigenously to achieve self-reliance and leverage the capabilities of industries towards the goal of self reliance."

Further, to keep pace with the emerging technologies and counter the adversaries in the Western and Northern front, the necessity of the new weapons and its integration with the delivery platforms was felt by the government. "To achieve the same objectives, the DAC accorded the approval to Indian Air Force's proposal for long-range stand off weapon (LRSOW) which will be indigenously designed, developed and integrated on SU-30 MKI aircraft", the ministry said.

The Defence Acquisition Council approvals reflected a push towards the indigenised modernisation of Indian Army's Artillery.

Land-for-job scam: Tejashwi to appear before CBI

JAISON WILSON @ New Delhi

BIHAR Deputy Chief Minister Tejashwi Yadav told the Delhi High Court that he will appear before the CBI in Delhi on March 25, after the probe agency assured the court that it won't arrest the legislator in the alleged land-for-jobs case.

CBI's counsel DP Singh told the HC that Tejashwi may appear physically this month and the central agency is not going to arrest him after which Justice Dinesh Kumar Sharma recorded his submission.

To this, senior advocate Maninder Singh, representing the minister said, his client will appear on March 25 before the investigating officer at CBI headquarters in Delhi at 10:30 am. Tejashwi in his plea said he had requested the investigating officer through multiple letters to allow him some time as the current Bihar Assembly session will conclude on April 5.

He said he had requested that either he be allowed to appear in the CBI office at Patna or if any information or documents are required from his side then he shall provide the same through his representative.

The case relates to alleged appointments made in the railways in return for land parcels gifted or sold to Lalu Prasad Yadav's family when he was the railway minister between 2004 and 2009.

Patrick French, British historian who wrote extensively on India, dies at 57

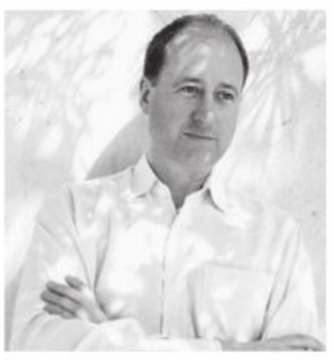
SIMI KURIAKOSE @ New Delhi

IN 2008, The New York Times review of Patrick French's 'The World Is What It Is'—the authorised biography of Nobel Prize winner VS Naipaul — called French as "a relative rarity among biographers, a real writer". French, an established name in the literary world, died in London on Thursday after battling cancer for four years. He was 57. French seamlessly blended a nuanced take and an innate wit in the pages of biographies he has written over the years.

His exceptional writing on Naipaul aside, French also authored Younghusband: The Last Great Imperial Adventurer (1994), a biography of the British explorer Francis Younghusband; Liberty or Death: India's Journey to Independence and Division (1997); and India: A Portrait, an intimate biography of the lives of Indians wherein he captures a panoramic portrait of the country.

French, who did his PhD in South Asian Studies and an MA in English and American Literature, both from the University of Edinburgh, majorly focused on political and social analysis of India in the decades directly before and after independence in 1947. He also worked on the period following economic 'liberalisation' in the 1990s.

Apart from being adept with words and masterful in weaving narratives, French was also an academician. He was the inaugural dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at Ahmedabad University. He stepped down in 2022 after five years to take a writing sabbatical.



PATRICK FRENCH

French was also interested in understanding climate change, and had mentioned in a 2021 tweet how "In my 20s I had a 'Greta Thunberg' moment. As a non-scientist, I could not see how you burned fossils at ferocious rates without changing the planet".

Among the many hats he donned, he was also known for his brief stint in politics when he unsuccessfully contested the 1992 UK general elections as a Green Party candidate.

Many from the literary circles and beyond, including author and MP Shashi Tharoor, writer and historian William Dalrymple, took to Twitter to pay their tributes.

Calling him "a brilliant biographer, and a very fine and generous human being", Indian historian and writer Ramachandra Guha shared his thoughts with this newspaper: "I cherished his friendship and I admired his writing. After I got the news, I heard that his biography of [British novelist] Doris Lessing is done. It will be wonderful and, in many ways, I am thinking about how it is a perfect counterpart to VS Naipaul—of course, both Nobel laureates; one a woman, one a man... I am very intrigued by it and I thought Patrick would be the perfect choice."

He added: "Some years ago, he also told me that he wanted to write a book on Queen Victoria's empire. So, that was an unfinished project."

Had brief stint in politics

French donned many hats. He was known for his brief stint in politics when he unsuccessfully contested at the 1992 United Kingdom general election as a Green Party candidate. French was also interested in climate change, and had mentioned in a 2021 tweet how "In my 20s I had a 'Greta Thunberg' moment. As a non-scientist, I could not see how you burned fossils at ferocious rates without changing planet"

Delhi-based author and historian Swapna Liddle also shared her thoughts: "A great loss to the world of literature. French will particularly be remembered for his brilliant biographies."

SELF-HEALING DAMAGE IN FLYING ROBOTS

MIT researchers have developed resilient artificial muscles that can enable insect-scale aerial robots to effectively recover flight performance after suffering severe damage. | MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Massachusetts Institute of Technology researchers have developed a method to enable flying bug robots to repair themselves while in flight. This can enhance their durability and performance while being applied in surveillance. They developed techniques that can allow the aerial robots to sustain severe damage to the actuators, or artificial muscles, that power its wings to continue to fly despite the setback. They optimized artificial muscles so the robot can better isolate defects and overcome minor damage. In addition, they demonstrated a novel laser repair method that can help the robot recover from severe damage, such as a fire that scorches the device. Wings on each corner of the tiny aerial robots are powered by dielectric elastomer actuators, which are soft artificial muscles using mechanical forces to flap the wings.

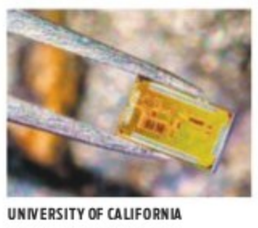
TECH TO CONVERT YOUR SMARTPHONE INTO AN RFID READER



UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Researchers at the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering of the University of California San Diego have reported a breakthrough through a new app that enables battery-free smart tag technology that can turn a smartphone into a Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) reader. Simply put, this system can allow a smartphone user to just open the refrigerator, open the app linked to this technology and aim at the food items neatly packed inside with their labels on, and it will deliver data about the items like their expiry dates and their nutritional values in a fraction of a second. This is possible as the technology combines a chip integrated in the product packaging and a software update on the smartphone. The smartphone can identify the objects based on signals emitted from Bluetooth and WiFi, to transform the smartphone into an effective RFID reader. What it does is that signals generated by the smartphone are redirected back to the phone in a format that the phone can understand. It is the same technique used for applications like on-body sensors and asset trackers.

BJP seeks to lap up SP & BSP icons

Ahead of crucial 2024 elections, saffron party goes all out to woo Yadav and Dalit votes

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

'Mission 80' of BJP in UP

After winning 62 seats in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, the BJP aims to win all 80 seats this time, sensing disunity in the opposition and the perceived charisma of the Yogi Adityanath-led government. To achieve the goal, the BJP is focussing on the aggressive Yadav community as well as Dalits who tend to gravitate towards BSP.

POWER PLAY IN UP

- UP BJP chief pays tributes to BSP founder Kanshiram
- RSS in its 3-day meet sang paeans to Mulayam & Sharad Yadav
- Many Yadav leaders have been 'promoted' by BJP in recent months

- BJP says it has the right chance to reach out to Yadavs and Dalits of UP, Bihar and Haryana

The ideology of the BJP and BSP are different. Only paying tributes to Kanshiram ji would not be enough, the ruling party will have to follow his ideals of Dalit emancipation — Senior BSP leader

BARELY a year ahead of the Lok Sabha polls, the BJP appears to have carefully re-crafted its strategy in UP by appropriating other parties' icons to exercise greater influence across castes. The state with 80 parliamentary seats is said to be in an unenviable situation to become the 'kingmaker' in Delhi. The party secured 62 seats in the 2019 polls.

State BJP chief Bhupendra Chaudhury took to Twitter on Wednesday to pay tributes to BSP founder Kanshiram on his 89th birthday. On the other hand, the RSS paid encomiums to two Samjawadi stalwarts, Mulayam Singh Yadav and Sharad Yadav, at the Sangh's three-day Pratinidhi Sabha in Panipat last week.

The words that Chaudhury chose gave clear indications as to what his party is aiming at. He tweeted a photo of Kanshiram, saying: "kushal rajnitigya, daliton, vanchiton evam shoshiton ke prabhavshali swar" (an adroit politician and an influential voice of Dalits, the deprived and exploited sections of society).

It is for the first time that the BJP paid tributes to Kanshiram, the founder president of Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP), who catapulted the party into a major political force which helmed UP for four times under its current chief Mayawati.

As expected, BJP's overtures drew a sharp reaction from the BSP ranks who claimed that the ruling party "did not mean what it said and projected itself as." "The ideology of the BJP and BSP are different. Only paying tributes to Kanshiram ji would not be enough, the ruling party will have to follow his ideals of Dalit emancipation," said a senior BSP leader. He said the BJP was posturing to woo Dalits ahead of the polls.

However, the BJP has chosen to combine the comments with its policy of 'sabka saath, sabka vikas, sabka vishwas and sabka prayas.' The Modi government has already decided to confer Padma Vibhushan on SP patriarch Mulayam Singh Yadav posthumously.

Political analysts say the Sangh has sought to create the space for the BJP to woo Yadavs, the influential caste among OBCs. The RSS had sharp differences with Mulayam, especially over Ram temple . Yet, Sangh's latest gesture is being seen as another push to BJP's efforts of the last five years to have a grip on the Yadav vote bank.

There are instances where the BJP has promoted Yadav leaders in UP to counter SP. It has sent Harnath Yadav to RS and given Santraj Yadav, once a close aide of Shivpal Yadav, a top position in cooperative sector to neutralize Shivpal.

Akhilesh keen on 3rd front, but no tie-up with Cong

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

SEEKING to rely more on a third front than entering an alliance led by Congress to take on the BJP in the big battle of 2024, the Samajwadi Party will set the tone for the general election exploring its role in stitching an anti-BJP, anti-Congress front at its two-day national executive due to begin in Kolkata on Saturday.

The Samajwadis seem to be reluctant to be a part of any alliance led by Congress at the national level. This could be inferred from the recent statements of SP chief Akhilesh Yadav who made his intention clear about candidates in the Gandhi family bastions of Rae Bareli and Amethi in 2024.

Until recently, the SP and Congress had the unspoken understanding of leaving each other's pocket boroughs uncontested. While SP did not field candidates in Rae Bareli and Amethi for so many elections, Congress responded in kind in Mulayam Singh Yadav's constituency Mainpuri and any seat from where Akhilesh would contest.

Last week, the SP chief, during his visit to Amethi, had appealed to the people not to vote for VIPs who had "ruined" the constituency. "Despite electing political bigwigs for so many years, Amethi has not received its due. This time, the people of Amethi will elect a candidate with a large heart as we promise growth here," Akhilesh said while talking to the media.

In the recent past, Akhilesh has been visiting non-BJP, non-Congress-ruled states to attend events organised by opposition parties to consolidate the efforts of cobbling up a third front against the BJP.

Cash-strapped TMC govt to levy toll tax on state highways

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

STRUGGLING to run 70-odd welfare schemes in the state, Mamata Banerjee's cash-strapped and industry-starved government, which was against levying user charges on roads as it could place additional on common people, identified 28 state-highway stretches where toll can be levied shortly for the first time in the state.

The Public Works Department (PWD), the agency looks after state-highways, identified the stretches where toll tax can easily be levied and the department has also started initiatives to construct toll plazas on these stretches.

The decision was significant as whenever a proposal placed before Mamata for levying user charges on roads recently, she rejected the idea. Burdened with ₹70,000 crore debt, Bengal government in last September passed a Bill in the Assembly to amend the West Bengal Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act, 2010, to enhance its borrowing capacity.

After volte-face and spending ₹13 cr, Guj ends seaplane service

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

File photo

THE Gujarat government admitted in the state Assembly on Thursday that it had discontinued the country's first so-called seaplane service after spending ₹13 crore due to exorbitant operational costs.

Harshad Patel, BJP MLA from Sabarmati, questioned about the seaplane service a week ago in the Assembly. The administration then responded by stating that plans had been made to launch the seaplane. According to the guidelines, action has been taken. As soon as this procedure is finished, the service will be restarted.

However, taking a U-turn on its own reply on seaplane service, the government today said the service was terminated because the cost of operating was too expensive. The government acknowledged in the House that it had already spent over 13.15 crore on the seaplane.

In response to a question from Congress leader Arjun Modhwadia, the government stated that a seaplane service from Ahmedabad to Kevadia was started in 2020 at a cost of ₹13,15,06,737. The government also stated that the seaplane service was discontinued in 2021 due to financial reasons and due to the high cost of operation for the operator.

The government admitted in the House that the service was halted because foreign-registered aircraft made operation and maintenance difficult.

Purnesh Modi, a former cabinet minister, had previously promised that the service for Ahmedabad seaplanes would begin soon from Kevadia.

On October 31, 2020, PM Modi launched a seaplane service from Kevadia to Ahmedabad for the Statue of Unity, later sent to the Maldives for repair.

Timber smugglers make inroads into core area of Arunachal tiger reserve

EVEN as India refocuses on tiger conservation after the demise of 30 big cats in the first two months of 2023, another big challenge for the administrators is timber smuggling.

On Tuesday, officials in India's easternmost Changlang district in Arunachal Pradesh discovered that local timber smugglers had managed to build a kutcha road in and around the core area of Namdapha National Park & Tiger Reserve.

It measures approximately 20 km road and is motorable only for 4x4 TC trucks. Some 1-2 km of it falls inside the park while the remaining stretch is in its buffer zone. The road was detected during an operation conducted by a joint team of the district administration and the forest department, led by district magistrate Sunny K Singh. The team also came across large-scale timber smuggling.

"It was a difficult operation and the smugglers made it even more difficult by blocking our way with logs. However, the members of the team showed determination and cleared the path," Singh told this newspaper on Thursday.

Official sources said it is difficult to comprehend how the smugglers carried out the large-scale illegal activities under the very nose of forest department officials.

The district administration has directed forest officials to ensure strict monitoring of all sensitive areas adjoining Namdapha and take stringent action against the smugglers.

The DM said the sighting of a Royal Bengal Tiger in the park last month after eight years was not a mere coincidence. He attributed it to habitat destruction owing to timber smuggling in the catchment of a stream called Mpen Nallah.

"The catchment of Mpen Nallah has dried up due to deforestation. It is the source of water for the animals of Namdapha as well as the residents of Miao subdivision. If there is scarcity of water, there will surely be human-animal conflicts," Singh said.

The park stretches across 1,982 sq km but only has a handful of forest guards, Singh said. The team seized one JCB, one pickup truck and two TC trucks – one of them timber-laden. Another JCB and two TC trucks were found abandoned in the jungle. They were immobilised.

According to preliminary estimates, over 2,000 CFT of timber was found lying at several illegal depots en route. An FIR has been lodged.

Woman tried to blackmail me, alleges Amruta

The wife of deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis, Amruta, has filed an FIR alleging that a woman, the daughter of a bookie, had befriended her and tried to bribe her with ₹1 crore to intervene in a criminal case involving her father. She allegedly also offered to give information on bookies "to help her earn money"

THERE was a furore in the Maharashtra Assembly on Thursday on allegations made by Amruta Fadnavis, the wife of Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, that a bookie's daughter, who has since been arrested, had tried to blackmail her.

The Opposition wondered how the wife of the state Home Minister could be targeted like this. Amruta Fadnavis filed a police complaint against the woman, who claimed to be a designer. A woman named "Aniksha" and her father were named in a FIR filed on February 20.

She alleged that the woman befriended her, and tried to bribe her, offering her ₹1 crore to intervene in a criminal case involving her father. She allegedly also offered to give information on bookies "to help her earn money".

Fadnavis told the House that the designer ingratiated herself with his wife to get her to save her father.

"The FIR details the corruption and bribery attempt. There are 14 cases against Anil Jaisinghani, a bookie, who is missing for four or five years. His daughter Aniksha got in touch with my wife after MVA came to power," Fadnavis said.

"She requested me to wear products designed by her at public events, and that this would help promote her clothes, jewellery and footwear. I felt sympathetic... and said alright," Amruta said in the FIR. Seeking details of the matter, the leader of Opposition and NCP MLA Ajit Pawar said, "People should know the truth about the case".

Unrest over killing of tribal woman in Indore, police post vandalised

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

Tribal youth went on a rampage at Mhow police outpost in Indore

THE alleged killing of a young tribal woman by a man belonging to an OBC triggered violent protests by tribals and resultant police action, including firing, outside a police outpost in Indore district's Mhow sub-division on Wednesday night. A tribal youth died and around 15 cops were injured.

A preliminary report of the autopsy of the woman's body on Thursday suggested that the 22-year-old woman died after getting electrocuted by an immersion rod (being used to boil water) inside the accused Patidar caste man's house on Wednesday. However, the police have lodged a case of murder against the Patidar man and arrested him on the complaint by the deceased woman's kin.

The state government has ordered a magisterial probe into the entire episode, including violent protests outside the police outpost and the killing of the 18-year-old tribal youth Bherulal in firing.

Also, ₹10 lakh has been announced for the victim Bherulal's family, along with a government job for the family's elder son. Arrangements will also be made in tribal hostels for the proper education of the children from the family.

While Indore's additional district magistrate AD Sharma will conduct the magisterial probe into the Wednesday night violence outside Dongergaon police outpost and the death of tribal youth Bherulal in firing, prohibitory orders have been enforced, banning rallies, protests and demonstrations in five police station areas of Indore district.

In Bhopal, meanwhile, the issue rocked the ongoing Budget session of the assembly on Thursday, as Congress MLAs staged a walkout over the issue, accusing the BJP government of failing to protect tribal interests.

"In the 18 years of BJP rule in the state, MP has topped the country in crime/atrocities against tribals for 13 years and stood second on the same parameter in the rest five years. This is not as per me or Congress, but as per the National Crime Record Bureau (NCRB) figures," state Congress president Kamal Nath said.

He said a four-member Congress team would visit the site and conduct a parallel probe.

A battle of hair and moustache among tribal leaders in Chhattisgarh

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

IN 2003, after Chhattisgarh had just been carved out from Madhya Pradesh and was set to go for Assembly polls, BJP firebrand leader Dilip Singh Judeo hogged the limelight when he challenged the then Congress CM Ajit Jogi that he will shave off his moustache if his party got defeated.

The BJP went on to form the government. Twenty years later, the state is witnessing a similar open challenge linked to manly pride over moustaches. It is now the turn of tribal leader Amarjeet Singh Bhagat, the food and civil supplies minister in the Congress-led government, who insisted that his party will retain power in the upcoming Assembly polls while accepting a challenge given by former BJP MP Nandkumar Sai, also a tribal leader.

Former BJP Lok Sabha MP Ramvichar Netam publicly declared from a stage on Sai's behalf that he will not get a haircut till the Congress party was trounced in Chhattisgarh. Sai went on to endorse the same.

Bhagat retorted, "What is so great to take a chance on one's hair? If he has to bet on anything, it should be to ensure the benefit of quota be extended to the people of the state." He declared that if the Congress failed to win the polls, he will lop off his moustache.

The state polls are due later this year. BJP leader Prabal Pratap Singh Judeo (son of late Dilip Singh Judeo) said Bhagat should be ready to shave his moustache off, even as the state BJP on its official Twitter handle posted a clean shaved image as 'new look of Amarjeet Bhagat in December 2023'.

Imran supporters place containers outside his home

LAHORE

As normalcy returned to Lahore's Zaman Park after scuffles between security personnel and workers of the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf, former premier Imran Khan's supporters placed shipping containers outside the entrance of his house and equipped themselves with clubs and slings to protect him from any further police action.

Although the Rangers and police have halted the operation to arrest the 70-year-old former cricketer-turned-politician till Friday at the Lahore High Court's direction, a heavy contingent of police remained stationed on all roads leading to his residence.

The authorities have suspended the internet service in the Zaman Park area in order to stop the PTI workers present there to upload videos on social media.

A day after the Rangers and police retreated, Imran's supporters on Thursday placed shipping containers outside the main entrance of his Zaman Park residence, which turned into a battleground on Tuesday after PTI workers engaged in pitched battles with policemen to stop them from arresting their leader in the Toshakhana case, resulting in injuries to more than 60 people, mostly policemen.

Meanwhile, the Punjab police registered an FIR against Imran under a plethora of charges, including terrorism, a day after pitched battles broke out between security personnel and the ousted prime minister's defiant supporters here.

Supporters of former Prime Minister Imran Khan gather outside his residence in Lahore on Thursday | AFP

The FIR said Imran incited over 2,500 of his party workers present at Zaman Park to attack police personnel who wanted to arrest him in a corruption case.

A district court judge said he would halt attempts by the Islamabad police to arrest Imran if the ousted premier surrendered before the court. Additional District and Sessions Judge Zafar Iqbal said this during the hearing of the Election Commission of Pakistan (ECP) case seeking criminal proceedings against PTI party chief for hiding details of Toshakhana gifts. The judge had re-issued non-bailable arrest warrants for 70-year-old Imran on February 28 and directed the capital city police to bring him to court by March 18.

While hearing the case, the judge remarked that Imran should surrender unconditionally before seeking any favour from the court. PTI

Protests as Netanyahu rejects reform compromise

Tel Aviv: Israeli protesters returned to the streets Thursday to rally against proposed judicial reforms, after Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu rejected a compromise plan touted by the country's president. The reforms, several provisions of which have already been adopted by parliament, are "the end of democracy," read a placard brandished by demonstrators in Tel Aviv. President Isaac Herzog on Wednesday presented a proposed compromise on the reforms, but it was immediately rejected by the government. "Anyone who thinks that a genuine civil war, with human lives, is a line that we could never reach, has no idea what he is talking about," Herzog said. Netanyahu later said: "What the president is proposing has not been accepted by the representatives of the ruling coalition.

Credit Suisse crisis: Indian banks safe

Swiss bank has assets worth ₹20,700 crore, 0.1% of assets in Indian banking system

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

THE crisis at Credit Suisse will not have any major impact on the Indian financial and banking system as the exposure of Swiss banking giant to Indian banks is insignificant.

Switzerland's second-largest bank has just one branch in the country and has assets worth ₹20,700 crore which amounts to 0.1% of assets in the country's banking system, according to report by Jefferies.

"Given the relevance of Credit Suisse to India's banking sector, we see softer adjustments in assessment of counter-party risks, especially in the derivative market," noted the report.

"We expect RBI to keep close watch on liquidity issues, counter-party exposures and intervene as necessary. This may also lead to institutional deposits moving more towards larger/ quality banks," it added.

Even among the foreign banks operating India, the share Credit Suisse, which is 12 largest foreign bank, is relatively small. HSBC is the largest foreign bank in India with total assets of Rs2,47,300 crore.

"Indian banking sector is unlikely to any significant impact from the events unfolding at SVB and Credit Suisse. Indian banks are subjected to stricter rules by the regulators compared to the banks in US and Europe. For example, Indian banks are required to provide for unrealised Mark-to-Market losses which is not the case with US or European banks," Sujan Hajra, Chief Economist and Executive Director, Anand Rathi Shares and Stock Brokers told this newspaper.

"After 2014, banks have seen stringent provisioning and capital requirements, making Indian banking system strong enough to face any financial turmoil," Hajra added.

Credit Suisse's deposit base is smaller at Rs2,800 crore, forming around 20% of total liabilities. While share of shorter-term liabilities is high, assets are mostly in liquid G-Secs. Jefferies said it would watch out for liquidity issues and any rub-off on counter-party risk assessment on Indian banks, especially in derivatives.

Foreign banks make up only 6 per cent of banking assets, with the Swiss lender accounting for 1.5 per cent of that share. Despite their limited presence, they are active in the derivative markets (forex and interest rates) where they have up to 50 per cent share.

Earlier in the day, Credit Suisse said it would borrow up to $54 billion from the Swiss central bank to shore up liquidity and investor confidence after a slump in its shares intensified fears about a global banking crisis. The note also highlighted that Credit Suisse is more relevant to the Indian financial system than the Silicon Valley Bank, which collapsed recently.

BANK CRISIS

₹20,700 crore — Total assets of Credit Suisse in India

6% — Share of assets of foreign banks in Indian banking assets

₹2,800 cr — Deposit base of Credit Suisse which is around 20% of total liabilities

₹2,47,300 cr — Total assets of HSBC, the largest foreign bank in India

0.1% — Share of assets of Swiss banking giant in India's banking system

Vinod Adani part of 'promoter group' of listed firms: Adanis

ENS ECONOMIC BUREA @ Bengaluru

Adani Group on Thursday said Vinod Adani is part of the 'promoter group' of various listed entities within the group.

The group in an exchange filing clarified Gautam Adani and Rajesh Adani are individual promoters of various listed entities within the Adani Group and Vinod Adani is an immediate relative of the individual promoters.

"Accordingly, as per the applicable Indian regulations, Vinod Adani is part of the 'promoter group' of various listed entities within the Adani Group. This fact has been submitted to Indian regulatory authorities from time to time in various disclosures," it said.

The clarification comes after media reports suggested that ACC Limited and Ambuja Cements were actually controlled by Vinod Adani and not the Adani Group.

The group in its clarification said the fact that Endeavour Trade and Investment Limited (an entity controlled by Vinod Adani), the acquirer of ACC Limited and Ambuja Cements Limited, belongs to the Adani Group has been disclosed in the public offer document and is also on the websites of Ambuja Cements, stock exchanges and was also filed with the financial market regulatory authority, SEBI.

However, this clarification goes against earlier claims made by the group that Vinod Adani has no role to play in any listed Adani Group companies.

After short-seller Hindenburg Research in its report in January had raised question on the 'extent' of Vinod Adani's role in Adani Group, the group had responded by saying Vinod Adani does not hold any managerial position in any Adani listed entities or their subsidiaries and has no role in their day-to-day affairs.

The report had alleged that Gautam Adani's elder brother Vinod Adani, through several close associates, manages a vast labyrinth of offshore shell entities. The report identified 38 Mauritius shell entities controlled by Vinod Adani or his close associates.

The report had further claimed that many of the Vinod Adani-associated entities have no obvious signs of operations, including no reported employees, no independent addresses or phone numbers and no meaningful online presence.

Endeavour Trade belongs to Adani Group

Group said the fact that Endeavour Trade and Investment Limited (an entity controlled by Vinod Adani), acquirer of ACC Limited and Ambuja Cements Limited, belongs to the Adani Group has been disclosed in the public offer document

ED conducts searches on Franklin Templeton Mutual Fund top officials

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

The Enforcement Directorate on Thursday conducted searches at the residence of the top management of Franklin Templeton Mutual Fund in Mumbai.

The searches took place at the residences of ex- Head of APAC Distribution-Vivek Kudva and his wife- Rupa Kudwa, who is also managing partner, Omidyar Network India, Santosh Kamath, chief investment officer, said sources.

The searches are in connection with Franklin Templeton closing six debt schemes in April 2020, which it had blamed on the lack of liquidity due to Covid-19's impact on the markets.

However, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) held the fund house and its officers guilty of mismanagement in June 2021. Vivek and Rupa Kudva were held guilty of withdrawing their own investments ahead of the winding of the schemes.

The fund house and its executives have challenged the SEBI order and the matter is being heard by the Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT).

Franklin Templeton said it is cooperating with the regulatory authorities. "We continue to cooperate with all regulatory and statutory authorities and provide all data and information required by them.

Franklin Templeton places great emphasis on compliance with regulations, and we have appropriate policies in place, consistent with Indian regulations and global best practices," said a spokesperson for Franklin Templeton.

Lenskart raises $500 mn from Abu Dhabi's ADIA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

DESPITE funding winter and slowdown in deal flow, eyewear start-up Lenskart has raised $500 million in funding from a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA).

This is one of the largest funding rounds in recent times and the fundraise was done at about $4.2 billion valuation. The investment will be made through a purchase of both primary and secondary shares and will result in ADIA becoming one of the largest shareholders in Lenskart.

Upon completion of the transaction, Lenskart will have attracted close to $750 million capital over the last 12 months including recent fund-raising activities, making it one of the largest such growth stage financings globally.

Peyush Bansal, Founder and CEO of Lenskart said, "It is still Day 1 at Lenskart. Vision Correction remains a big problem, and Myopia rates continue to grow rapidly, touching levels of as high as 80–90% in some parts of Asia. Hence, we are still very early in our journey and have a lot of work to do to continue to make our desired impact in this area of critical need." According to Maximize Market Research, the Indian eyewear market size will touch nearly $9.69 billion by 2027 with a CAGR of about 11.9%. Apart from expanding in India, Lenskart is also scaling its international presence in Asia and the Middle East. The company has over 2,000 stores of which 1,500 are in India with the balance in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

Its new factory, which will play a significant role in manufacturing 20 million pairs of eyewear that the firm plans to ship next year, will be ready to launch soon. Lenskart grew revenue by 60% for the second year in a row, and is now profitable. Hamad Shahwan Al Dhaheri, executive director, Private Equities Department, ADIA said, "This investment is a continuation of our strategy of investing in highly differentiated, market leading businesses in Asia linked to the region's consumption-driven growth and rapid technological advancement."

OIL PRICES

OMCs will benefit from low crude prices: Experts

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

AS crude oil prices hurtle towards the sub-$70 level due to the ongoing banking crisis in the US and Europe, Indian oil marketing companies (OMCs) stand to gain from the latest fall.

According to the industry experts, upstream oil producers' realisation would decline but oil marketing companies such as IOCL, BPCL and HPCL will reap the benefits.

"The impact is negative for oil producers, whose realisations would decline. OMCs would benefit with improvement in marketing profits. In case the low prices sustain, the gas utilities sector would also see reduced prices of long-term LNG, which should increase demand," said Prashant Vashisht, vice-president of Corporate Ratings, ICRA.

After the SVB fiasco, Brent Crude sank to its lowest level since January 2023 and WTI dipped to its lowest since December 2022. Benchmark Brent Crude futures, which were trading above $80 a barrel a week ago, are now trading at $71 a barrel (19.30 PM IST) on Thursday.

Anuj Gupta, VP-Research at IIFL Securities, expects the crude to go down further, and could test $65 to $70 levels very soon. "Due to less demand from China, negativity in the system and Moody's downgrading the sector, crude prices have come down about 5%," said Gupta.

Currently, India imports more than 85% of its crude oil requirements from all over the world.

Truecaller opens its largest office in India to push global digital plans

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @Bengaluru

SWEDEN-headquartered global communications and caller ID platform Truecaller on Thursday opened a new state-of-the-art office in Bengaluru, the largest in India, and also its first exclusive office space out of its home-base in Stockholm.

The office, which will join other facilities at Gurugram and Mumbai, will propel a host of Truecaller's applications and operations in the country.

The Bengaluru team used to work out of a co-working space earlier, before moving to this renovated location of 30,443 sqft that can accommodate up to 250 employees, offering top-of-the-line technology.

Truecaller plans to use this facility as its primary hub to deliver India-first features and serve users globally. "We have a full stack organisation in India, which includes functions of product, design, engineering, as well as support activities like HR, finance, and legal, across three facilities," said Truecaller India Managing Director and Chief Product Officer Rishit Jhunjhunwala.

He said a mix of products is being developed in India, Sweden and Israel. "Truecaller for Business, the advertising platform, work on SMSs, calls and fraud protection pieces, are all built in India," he told TNIE.

Virtually inaugurating the Bengaluru office, Union Minister of State for Electronics and IT Rajeev Chandrasekhar said, "The decision of opening an exclusive office in India is representative of the growth of India as a trusted technology partner to the world."

"Our growth in India is linked to increasing use of smartphones and the internet... Today, we have about 55% of connected smartphones in India that use our services each day. At the same pace, India is expected to have around 800 million connected smartphones by 2026. In three years, if we just continue to evolve as we are doing now, we should be at 400-500 million smartphones," Truecaller Co-founder and CEO Alan Mamedi said. Of 338 million monthly active Truecaller users, 246 million are from India.

GOVT DIRECTORY SERVICE

Truecaller recently launched a government directory service, which contains 14,000 verified numbers from the government including 20 central ministries and 25 state ministries. This objective of the service is to ensure that citizens do not become victims of scams and frauds.

IT minister estimates over $1 billion exposure of Indian start-ups to SVB

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA @New Delhi

Union Minister Rajeev Chandrasekhar on Thursday said deposits close to $1 billion attributable to Indian startups were with the US-based Silicon Valley Bank.

The failure of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), which was a key funding source for start-ups, has sent shockwaves across the global financial system.

During a Twitter live session, Chandrasekhar said he heard that over $200 million of startups' deposits have been transferred to GIFT City bank.

"I had kind of very empirically and anecdotally calculated that there was more than a billion dollars of startups' capital as deposits. According to some, this is a conservative estimate. There were deposits in SVB that are attributable to Indian startups close to a billion or more," the Minister of State for Electronics and IT said.

Chandrasekhar also said that he has taken up the issue of SVB failure with the Finance Minister on Wednesday and pitched for fine-tuning the Indian banking system as per the requirement of startups.

Responding to a query, he said the country's semiconductor journey is going to begin in 2023.

"We are going to ground break a fab (chip-making plant). We are going to create packaging units in India and by the end of the financial year 2023, I think, there will be more than 50-55 design startups that are doing device design," Chandrasekhar said. Chandrasekhar had recently assured the Indian startups of all help to tide over this crisis. The minister, while interacting with over 450 startups on the collapse of SVB on Tuesday said the government is exploring if any credit lines can be made available in US dollar or Indian rupees. The government is also trying to facilitate the transfer of US dollar deposits to Indian banks. During the meeting, a few startups shared their concern about transferring their US Dollar deposits to India, and to US-based branches of Indian banks.

IT industry offers ₹6.75 lakh to freshers: Report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

FRESHERS are back in demand as the entry-level job seekers in the IT industry are offered the highest salary range between ₹3.45 lakh and ₹6.75 lakh, says a report.

According to talent platform foundit's Insights Tracker for February 2023, apart from IT hardware and software industry, BFSI industry offers ₹3.28 lakh to ₹5.40 lakh for entry-level professionals.

The report says the demand for entry-level job seekers in general was high in February with close to 42,000 active jobs available for freshers, indicating a 9% increase in job activity. The majority of job opportunities, about 63%, were targeted towards graduates, with startups contributing to 14% of jobs. Sekhar Garisa, CEO - foundit (previously Monster APAC & ME), a Quess company said, "Despite rising concerns at a macroeconomic level, India Inc proved themselves yet again, hiring freshers in rising numbers as well as enabling a diverse and inclusive workplace. The tech industry, despite a few setbacks, remains the single largest employer of fresh talent and women."

Hiring in the Indian white-collar space recorded an encouraging incline of 5% month-on-month, said the report.

The stronger outlook can be attributed to several factors, including the increasing funds allocated towards PLI schemes and the higher tax collections from the goods and services tax (GST), which have given the government the power to spend and shield the economy from the impact of the global slowdown, the report said.

Interestingly, the Tracker has observed a resurgence in the job market for entry-level positions with the onset of the placement season across campuses. Another report from job site Indeed said that technology job roles are in demand and they also see the highest salaries. The report says principal software engineer (mean salary of Rs 31,54,395), data scientist (Rs 24,62,356) and software architect (Rs 19,12,104) among others, are expected to be the top paying jobs in 2023.

Data engineer roles (353%), site reliability engineer (260%), assistant engineer (254%), application developer (235%), cloud engineer (220%) job roles have seen the highest growth since pre-pandemic.

Warner named Delhi Capitals captain for this IPL season

Veteran Australia batter David Warner was on Thursday named as captain of Delhi Capitals for the upcoming Indian Premier League (IPL) season in the absence of Rishabh Pant, who is currently undergoing rehabilitation after a car crash. India all-rounder Axar Patel will be the vice-captain of the Delhi team, a role he performed last year also. IPL 2023 begins on March 31.

SAI's plan to shift camp from Sonepat irks Greco-Roman wrestlers

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

ANOTHER controversy seems to be brewing in Indian wrestling with Sports Authority of India (SAI) planning to shift the camp of Greco-Roman wrestlers from its Sonepat centre to the Lucknow national centre of excellence (NCOE). The decision apparently was taken to accommodate women wrestlers at the venue with the freestyle male wrestlers ahead of the Asian Championships scheduled in Astana, Kazakhstan from April 9 to 14.

Notably, this newspaper has recently reported about uncertainty over women's camp.

However, the decision to shift the camp didn't go down well with the GR wrestlers, who have been training together with their freestyle counterparts for years. Not amused with the move, as many as 32 wrestlers, five coaches and three support staff from the style, met the executive director of SAI Sonepat centre on Thursday morning and requested her to avoid shifting their base.

They also wrote to the director general of SAI requesting him not to shift the venue. The day-to-day affairs of the WFI are being run by the oversight committee of the sports ministry.

"Today executive director, NRC, Sonepat, informed that the Greco-Roman camp is being shifted from the venue. Both FS and GR wrestlers have always been training together as they get benefitted from it. Training together helps them in ground wrestling. It also provides them with different sparring partners. Overall, training together benefits them a lot," reads a letter mailed to the DG SAI, which is in possession of this daily. "We request you to organise camps for both styles together," adds the letter, which was signed by coaches, wrestlers and support staff.

It is learnt that the SAI took the decision after consultation with a few senior freestyle wrestlers. It has given two options to GR wrestlers — SAI centre either in Lucknow or Hisar. Interestingly, the Lucknow NCOE is meant for women. The SAI was planning to start the women's camp on March 20. The resistance by the GR grapplers, however, has now put the SAI in a fix.

"The centre here in Sonepat has enough mats. One hall has six mats while another has four mats. Anyway, the women wrestlers stay in a separate hostel so all three camps can be held here if freestyle male wrestlers want women's camp to be organised here. I don't understand why they want to shift GR camp that too ahead of the Asian Championships. This year is very important with Asian Games and Olympic qualifier scheduled at the end. It can affect the performances of GR wrestlers," a source privy to the development told this daily.

Notably, a few women wrestlers never wanted their camp to be held in Lucknow. Multiple World Championships medallist Vinesh Phogat even spoke against it while protesting at Jantar Mantar, New Delhi in January. The protest by eminent wrestlers, who accused Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) chief Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh of sexual harassment, forced the sports ministry to form an oversight committee to probe the allegations. The ministry also asked Singh to step aside till the completion of the probe. The wrestlers also wrote to the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) to constitute a panel and investigate charges against the WFI president.

Even as the protest began, most of the male wrestlers (FS and GR) started camping at Sonepat. Women's camp was scheduled to begin in Lucknow but had to be called off after the sit-in protests by the wrestlers in the national capital.

"Before the oversight committee took over from the WFI, the latter suggested SAI centre in Gandhinagar, Gujarat as an option for the women's camp. A SAI centre in Maharashtra was also discussed for the purpose. But it did not materialise," said another source keeping a tab on the development.

A final decision about the shifting of the camp has not been taken till the time of filing of this report. SAI could not be contacted for its comments. The issue could snowball as the GR wrestlers have threatened to stage protest if their demands are not met.

HOMEWORK BEGINS

With limited ODIs between now & World Cup, onus will be on firming up slots & options in case few of the players don't recover in time

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

AFTER a job well done in the four-match Border-Gavaskar Trophy, the onus will shift to the three-match ODI series, the first of which is at Mumbai on Friday. The much-maligned 50-overs format has been searching for some context in recent years. This one, though, promises to be a series with something at stake for both the teams as they try to dot the i's and cross the t's ahead of this year's 50-over World Cup, also in India.

From India's perspective, this is an opportunity to have a closer look at their couple of players and spots ahead of the event this winter. With continued questions over both Jasprit Bumrah and Rishabh Pant, they will look at firming up their option B and option C in place two of their premium match-winners don't get fit in time for the World Cup. The said options include playing Ishan Kishan as the specialist keeper or asking KL Rahul to keep wickets. The latter kept wickets in all three of the games against Sri Lanka earlier this year. Replacing Bumrah is a slightly more difficult proposition but they are increasingly favouring using Umran Malik as an enforcer in the middle overs; it's not a like for like replacement but it's the management trying to be creative.

They have also looked at fielding all-rounders right till No. 9. The logic is pretty simple. If this is going to be a run-scoring World Cup, it's better to aim over par or have a team that's capable of chasing over par. And a batting line-up that can bat till No. 9 allows the team to do that (it's an area where the team failed in the last World Cup cycle). So, do not be surprised if the team fields the likes of Shardul Thakur, Washington Sundar and Axar Patel as late as No 8 or No 9 to arrive at a combination that works for the team.

One area of the side that needs a degree of experimentation is the No. 4 spot. Shreyas Iyer, the incumbent, has been withdrawn after he complained of back pain. How will the team management plug that gap? For starters, Suryakumar Yadav, who is yet to crack the ODI code, is likely to be given an extended run in this series. Meanwhile, Rahul is expected to be the No. 5. "Obviously there is no timeline but we have to hope for the best," Pandya said on Iyer. "It is going to impact, obviously we are going to miss him but we will have to slowly start finding solutions if he is not around (for a long time). If he is around, he is more than welcome but if he is not, then there is a lot of time to think about it and see how we can go forward," Pandya added. He also confirmed that Kishan and Gill will open.

As much as the hosts will like to make a statement by winning this series, they will be aware of the bigger picture.

A PRECURSOR TO WC

Although it will be during a different time of the year, this series offers the tourists a chance to figure out their combinations, especially the middle-order — Steven Smith, Marnus Labuschagne, Mitchell Marsh and Marcus Stoinis. What Labuschagne has to offer in Indian conditions in this format will be one of the things they will have an eye on

RAHUL'S LIFELINE AT NO. 5

While he was dropped from the Test and is not a regular in T20Is, KL Rahul has done no wrong to be left out of the ODI middle-order. Among the top six teams, only Tom Latham has scored more runs in the middle-order (No. 4-6) than Rahul since the start of 2020. In the absence of Rishabh Pant and Shreyas Iyer, this series offers a chance for the Karnataka batter to cement his place in the XI on the longer run.

HIGH-SCORING CHASE ON CARDS

In the last three ODIs that were played at the Wankhede Stadium, two of them were comfortable chases and the third was an improbable one with South Africa posting 438/4. Thursday could be no different, especially with it being a day-night encounter. Don't be surprised if it is as high-scoring as the previous games at the venue.

Comfortable seed for Nikhat in Rd 1

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

WHEN the official draw was revealed a day before the IBA World Boxing Championships, which kicked off in New Delhi on Thursday, there was a bit of a surprise as far as the Indian camp was concerned. The country's brightest hope on paper, Nikhat Zareen, was unseeded. Nikhat is entering the event on the back of dominating performances over the last year or so. It was in this very event that she had announced herself to the world last year. However, that supreme performance had come in a different weight category (52 kg). Even though she's plying her trade in the 50kg category this time, missing out on an all-important seeding, which is considered quite important, was an eye-opener.

It meant Nikhat had to start from the bottom and was in action on the very first day. Seeded athletes generally get byes and also the draws usually tend to be favourable. It also has to be noted that's not always the case, especially in competitions like World Championships, where every participant packs a punch. Even though the draw was not favourable, Nikhat is not perturbed and is just focussed on her task ahead. "Seeding does not matter," she said, when asked about the draw. Fighting with confidence, the world champion in 52kg is expected to dominate.

That was evident in her performance on Thursday. The Telangana boxer started where she had left off in recent times with a crushing performance in the opening round against Ismayilova Anakhanim of Azerbaijan. Nikhat did what she has been doing recently. She was observant, studying her rival in the opening round before revealing her attacking game. Ismayilova had no answers and the referee was forced to stop the contest in favour of the Indian in the second round. "I had watched her recent bout and had made plans accordingly and devised a plan to attack her. I'm very happy with the performance," Nikhat said.

The 26-year-old has shown steely resolve in recent times, something that has helped her navigate past different types of challenges. But like most athletes, she's not immune to pressure. Given that this is a relatively new weight category for her, especially in an elite-level competition, she knows she can't let her guard down and is hoping to kick on after this encouraging win. "There is always a little bit of pressure on most of us and I was also kicking off India's campaign. On one hand, there was a little bit of nervousness and on the other hand I was excited too. But I'm happy to have started on a strong note."

Her next challenge could be a tricky one. She'll be up against a champion boxer from Africa, Roumaysa Boualam of Algeria. Roumaysa is also the No 1 seed in the draw. "This is a big motivation. I know I'll meet tough opponents ahead, I want to take one step at a time. I have watched her (Roumaysa) fight but I have never met her. I'll sit with the coaches and we'll make a plan."

It's a chance for Nikhat to dismantle the fuss surrounding seedings and inch a step closer to greatness.

Overall it had been a good day for India with Sakshi Chaudhary and Nupur Sheoran too making their mark. Sakshi outboxed Colombia's Maria Jose Martinez in 52kg, while Sheoran did not sweat much while getting past Abiola Jackman of Guyana in +81kg pre-quarters bout. Preeti was the last Indian boxer to storm into the next round when referee stopped contest against Hungary's Lakotar Hanna in 54kg. "My first bout in world championships and when I saw the Colombian boxer was not as experience, I tried out some new punches and I believe that I will have to improve my game as there will be better boxers as the event progresses," said Sakshi.

Kanika dedicates contribution to mother who is battling cancer

GOMESH S @Chennai

KANIKA Ahuja could not wipe the smile off her face at the DY Patil Stadium, Navi Mumbai on Wednesday night. After all, she had just made a match-winning contribution (46 & 2 catches) in Royal Challengers Bangalore's maiden victory of the Women's Premier League before attending her first-ever official press conference.

It was not just her who was smiling. Over 1,500 kms away, the Ahuja household too were celebrating, especially Seema, a proud mother who could not stop clapping and smiling at her daughter's day in the limelight. At that moment and on the day after as well, her illness — she is battling breast and bone cancer — took a back seat. For, all she could talk about was what Kanika had done against UP Warriorz in the WPL.

"We went to the cancer hospital in Sangrur and just came back. We were there all day for her chemotherapy," said the Punjab all-rounder's father Surinder Ahuja on Thursday evening. "She was so happy today, without any tension and the chemo also went very smoothly. Otherwise, in every session something or other will be happening, like her blood pressure will go up, we will have to stop the session in between. Today, there was nothing of the sort, she was so happy from her heart and relaxed that her daughter is doing well, it all went well." It came as no surprise when Kanika dedicated her performance on Wednesday to her mother. After all, it was her mother who encouraged her to play cricket during her early days. She was her support system and there isn't a day or night that goes by without talking with her mother. "I am playing for her, because she is watching me," Kanika said.

For someone who started as a roller skater, cricket was an accident. When her school team, Sri Aurobindo International School, did not have a couple of players to fill the playing XI, the coach drafted her into the team. She did well and from thereon, cricket became her primary sport. She joined Cricket Hub Academy, where under Kamalpreet Sandhu Kanika started training with boys. At that point, the academy had no girls and at some level, it shaped her competitive edge and confidence. If one needs a sample, she is someone who does not hesitate to run out batters at the non-striker's end. This confidence and skill set did not develop overnight. For eight years, she has been preparing. "She used to come to the ground early in the morning for training. There will not be much time for her to go back, her grandfather used to bring breakfast..." Sandhu told this daily.

Treesa-Gayatri stun Japanese pair; Satwik-Chirag, Sen & Srikanth ousted

PTI @ Birmingham

INDIAN women's doubles pair of Treesa Jolly and Gayatri Gopichand scripted a stunning win to progress to the quarterfinals but Lakshya Sen bowed out in the men's singles competition of the All England Championships on Thursday. Commonwealth Games bronze medallists Treesa and Gayatri continued their rise as they shocked former world No. 1 pair of Yuki Fukushima and Sayaka Hirota 21-14, 24-22.

The world no. 17 Indian pair will next face Chinese combination of Li Wen Mei and Liu Xuan Xuan. Last year's finalist Sen, however, couldn't find his touch against Anders Antonsen, going down 13-21, 15-21. Returning from an injury, Satwiksairaj Rankireddy paired up with his partner Chirag Shetty but their fight ended with a 21-10, 17-21, 19-21 loss to China's world No. 10 Liang Wei Keng and Wang Chang. Kidambi Srikanth also lost to Kodai Naraoka 17-21, 15-21.

Benzema helps Real win

AFP @ Madrid

KARIM Benzema struck for Real Madrid to clinch a 1-0 win over Liverpool and qualification for the Champions League quarterfinals on Wednesday 6-2 on aggregate.

After the wild last 16 first leg clash at Anfield in February left Madrid sitting pretty with a three-goal advantage, Liverpool coach Jurgen Klopp said his side only had a one percent chance of turning the tie around. They stemmed the bleeding at the Santiago Bernabeu but never looked like mounting a stirring comeback of the type they managed against Barcelona in 2019, or AC Milan in the 2005 final. Madrid have now knocked Liverpool out of CL in three consecutive seasons, including beating them in last year's final. "It was a complicated game but from the start we showed we wanted to go through, and we are in the quarterfinals," Benzema said.

Meanwhile, Victor Osimhen says Napoli are dreaming of CL glory after his brace shot the Serie A leaders to a 3-0 win over Eintracht Frankfurt.

Giants beat Capitals by 11 runs in WPL

MUMBAI: Laura Wolvaardt and Ashleigh Gardner's 81-run stand for the second wicket took Gujarat Giants to 147/4 in 20 overs against Delhi Capitals in their Women's Premier League contest here on Thursday. After being asked to bat first and losing their aggressive opening batter Sophia Dunkley (4) early, Gujarat Giants played out a slow first half but recovered well to post a tricky total. Chasing 148 for victory, Delhi Capitals were bundled out for 136. Brief scores: Gujarat Giants 147/4 in 20 ovs (Wolvaardt 57, Gardner 51 n.o, Deol 31; Kapp 1/24, Jonassen 2/38) bt Delhi Capitals 136 in 18.4 ovs (Capsey 22, Kapp 36; Gardner 2/19, Garth 2/18).
